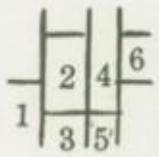
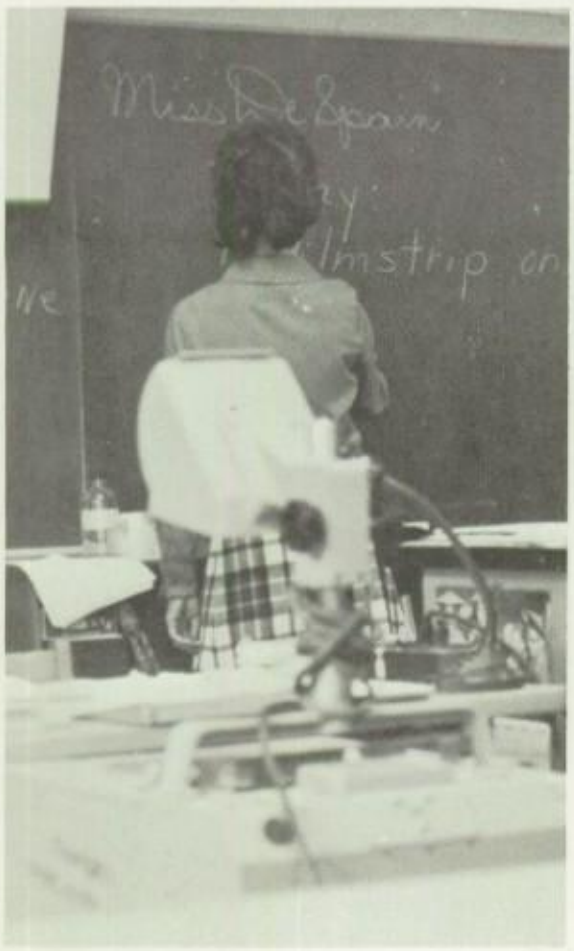
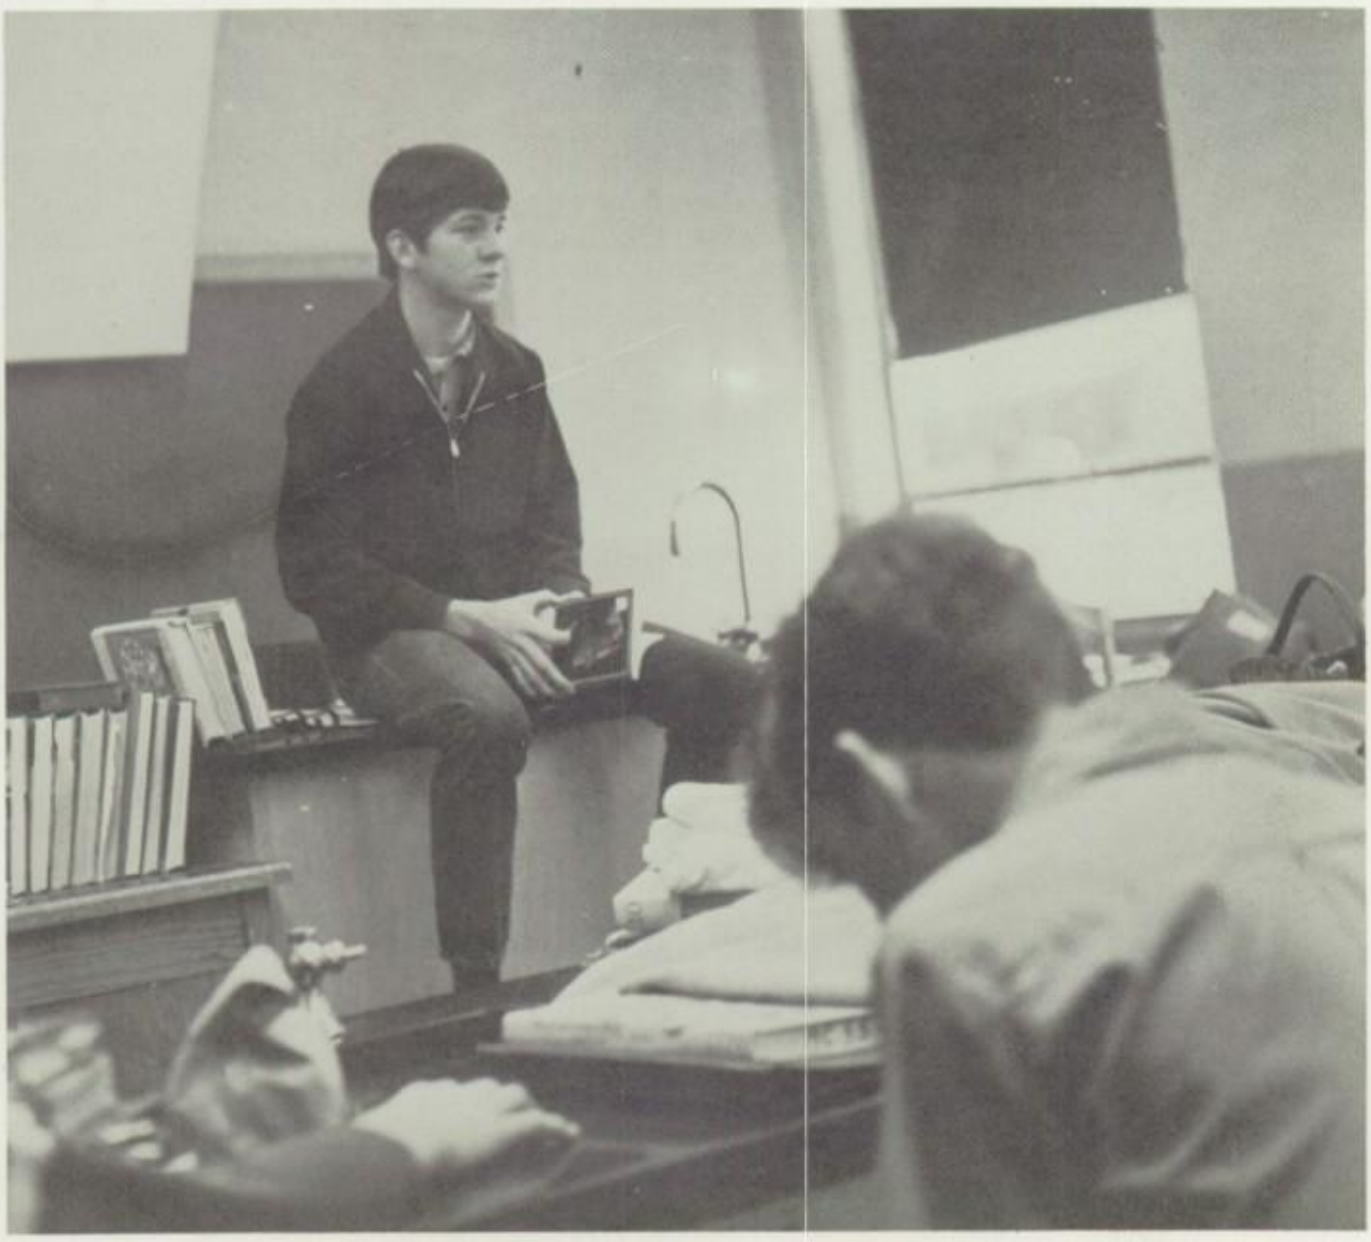
STUDENT LIFE

Average Day Begins Early For Most

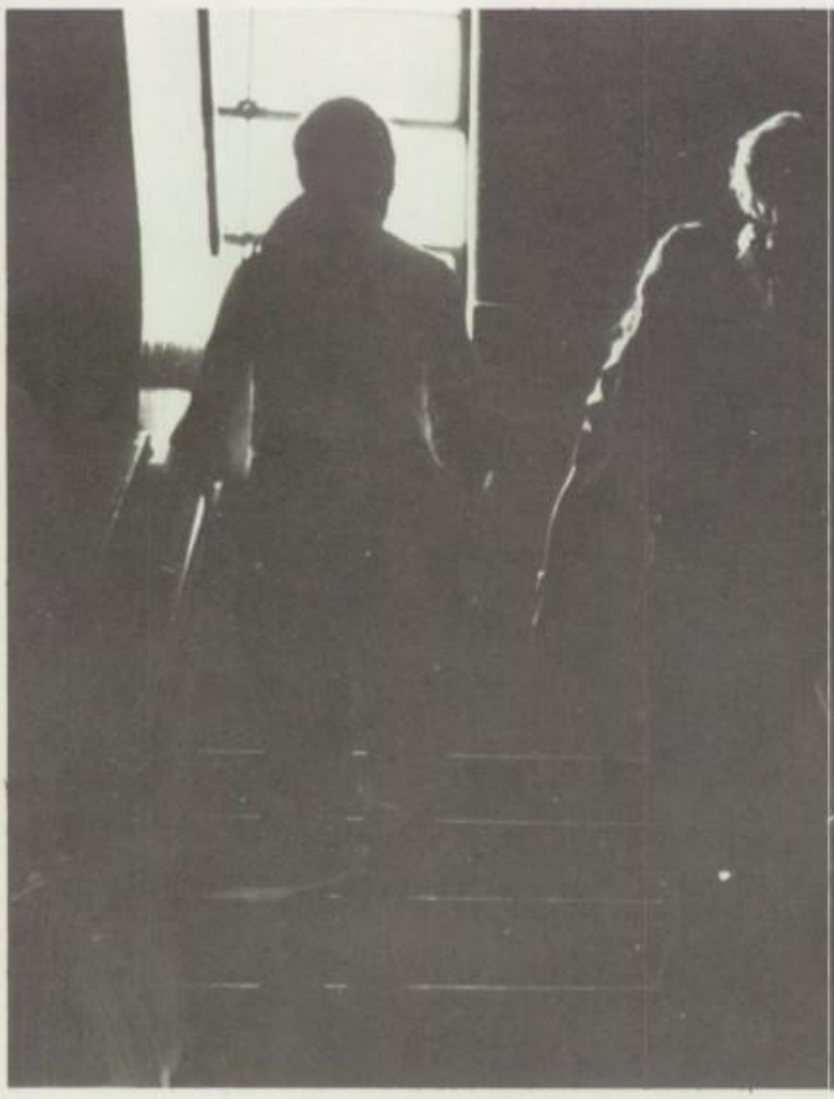


1/To get the assignment on the board and the classroom in complete readiness, even this substitute, Miss De Spain, was obligated to be at school early.
2/Icy winds and frozen noses did not interfere with the morning gossip sessions on the school's front steps.
3/Another morning ritual was the raising of the flag by members of ROTC.
4/Waiting for the 8:25 bell to ring, students utilized the comfort and availability of the guidance office.
5/Mark Howard, president of Conquerors for Christ, was in charge of the prayer meetings held each morning.
6/For senior chorus members, Christmas programs meant getting up early to make those extra rehearsals.

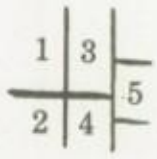




Rainy Days Create Certain Atmosphere



Busy Morning Initiates Work-Filled Day



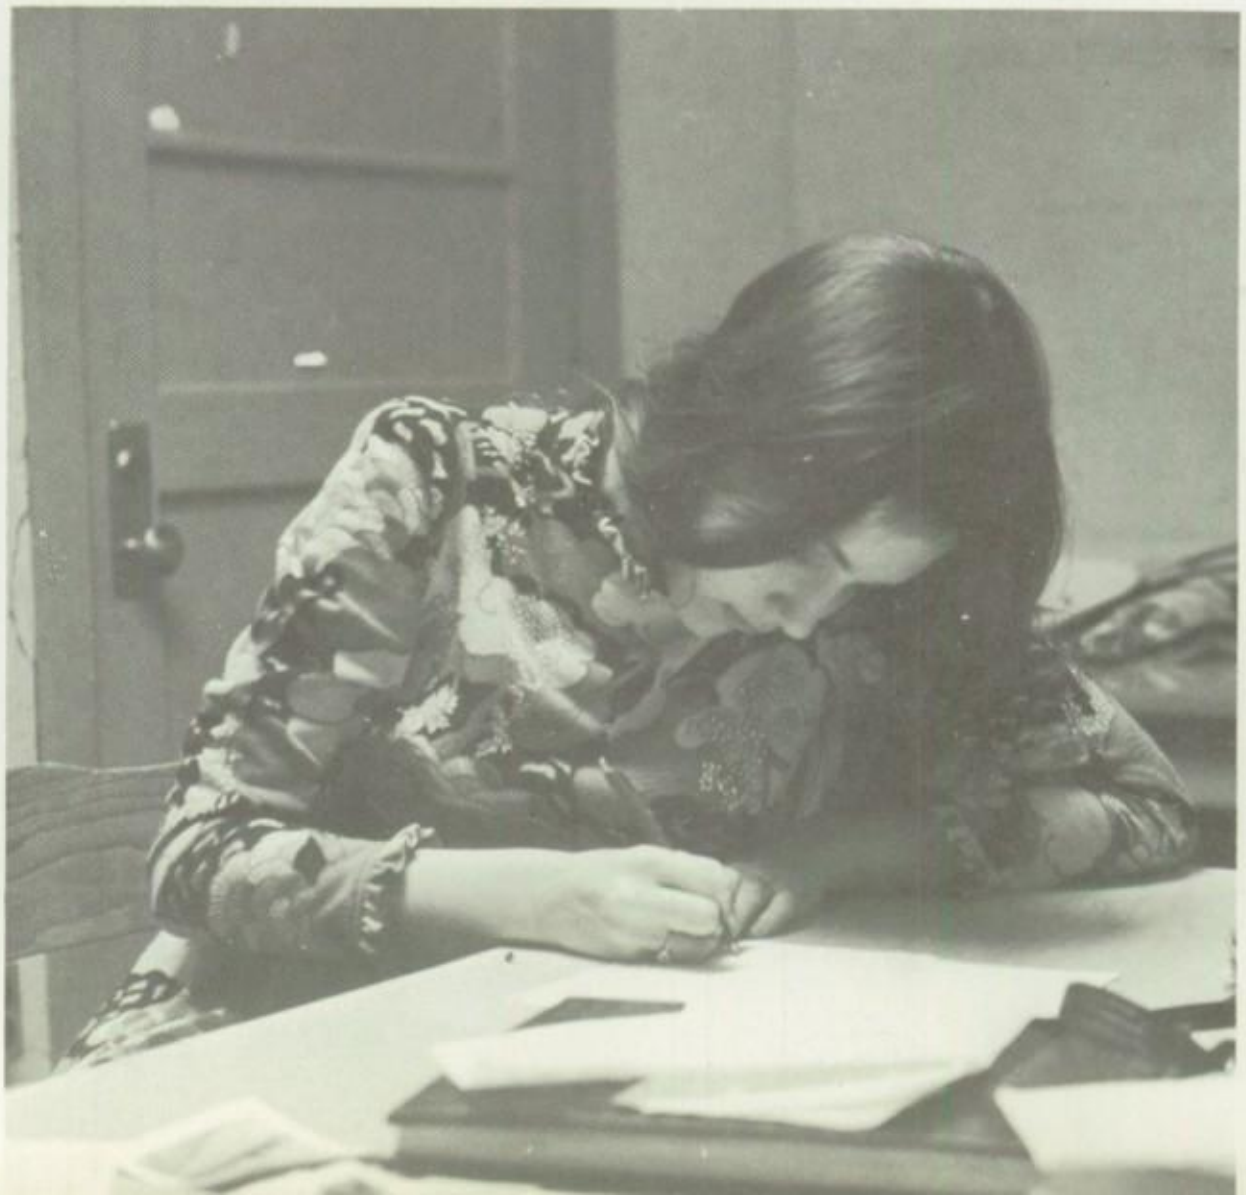
1/Running off test papers was a common task for Mr. Ralph Norris, industrial arts teacher.

2/Campus leaders congregated at Memphis Memorial Park to have pictures taken for the honors section of the annual.

3/Mrs. Norma Key's American history students found a new challenge in creating their own class government and drawing up a constitution.

4/Homeroom representatives reported to the office before first period to turn in the daily attendance cards.

5/With nerves on edge, Hilton Cohea discovered that waiting to see Mr. Owen could be quite an ordeal.



Successful Yearbook Is Ultimate Goal

1/Going over copy and layouts, Talon editor Renell Shurden wondered how she ever got herself into such a mess.

2/Becky Bearden and Vickie Freeman proved that being on the Talon staff was not all work.

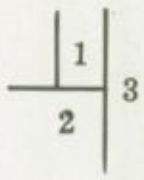
3/As the crowd of students collecting their annuals dwindled, Mrs. Rose Clayton, staff advisor, signed books and rested her feet.

4/For Susan Braithwaite meeting a deadline meant ignoring the noise from the band class next door and buckling down to some real work.

5/Amid great confusion, staff members explained to impatient students that they needed some form of identification to receive their yearbooks.

6/Business manager Betty Grantham, unaware that the photographer was not joking, smiled for the birdie.

Concert Reveals Growing Young Talent



1/Kingsbury's Senior High chorus opened the annual spring concert with an arrangement of "Make a Joyful Noise."

2/Mr. Ed Bousson, presented an entertaining concert including popular numbers, hymns, anthems, and a few old favorites.

3/Janet Winter, one of the many soloists for the evening, was accompanied by Randy Mathenia.

Outstanding Service Draws State Acclaim

1 | 2 | 4
3 | 5

1/Annette Cole presented Mr. Wicker with a certificate from Governor Dunn declaring November 23, 1971 as William Wicker Day in Tennessee.

2/Mrs. Louise Moore, former principal of Kingsbury Elementary, showed a picture of herself drawn by a former student and present motion picture star Chris Jones.

3/Guests and friends of Mr. Wicker who attended the assembly included Mrs. Louise Moore; Dr. John Crothers from the University of Tennessee; Miss Thelma Nichols, a former assistant principal of Kingsbury; Margaret Williams, personnel counselor for the Board of Education; Mark King, representative of Mayor Loeb; and John Freeman, Superintendent of Memphis City Schools.

4/Among the group paying tribute to Mr. Wicker was Dr. John Crothers, a principal of Kingsbury for fourteen years.

5/Serving refreshments in the home economics living room, a treat arranged by Mrs. Ruth McCormick, gave guests and teachers a chance to socialize.

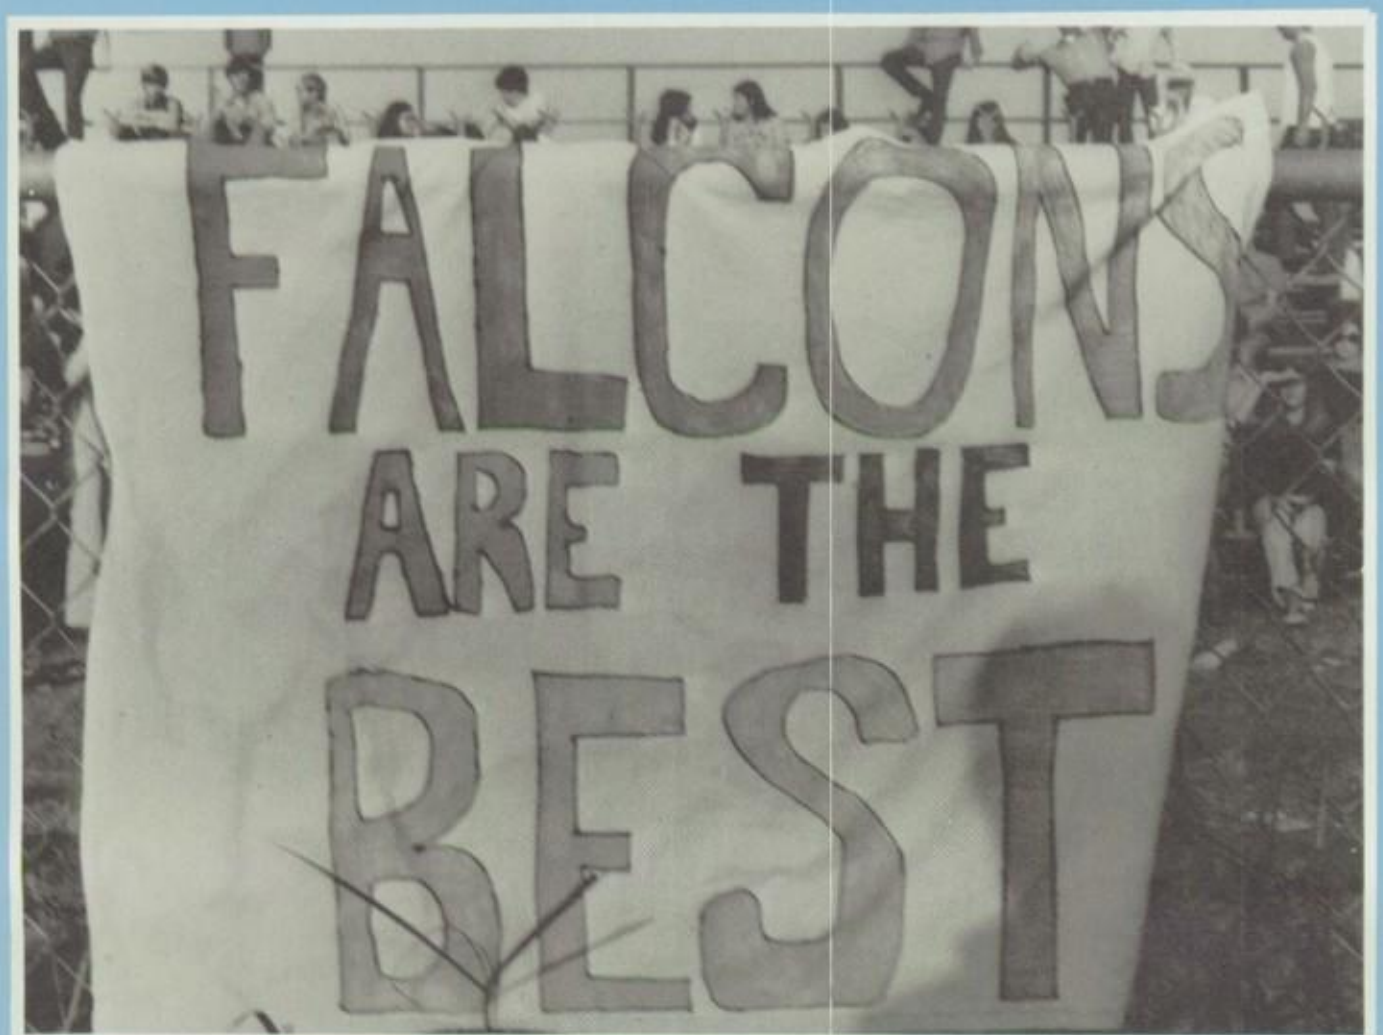
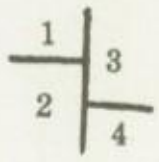
Confusion Reigns During Hectic Lunch

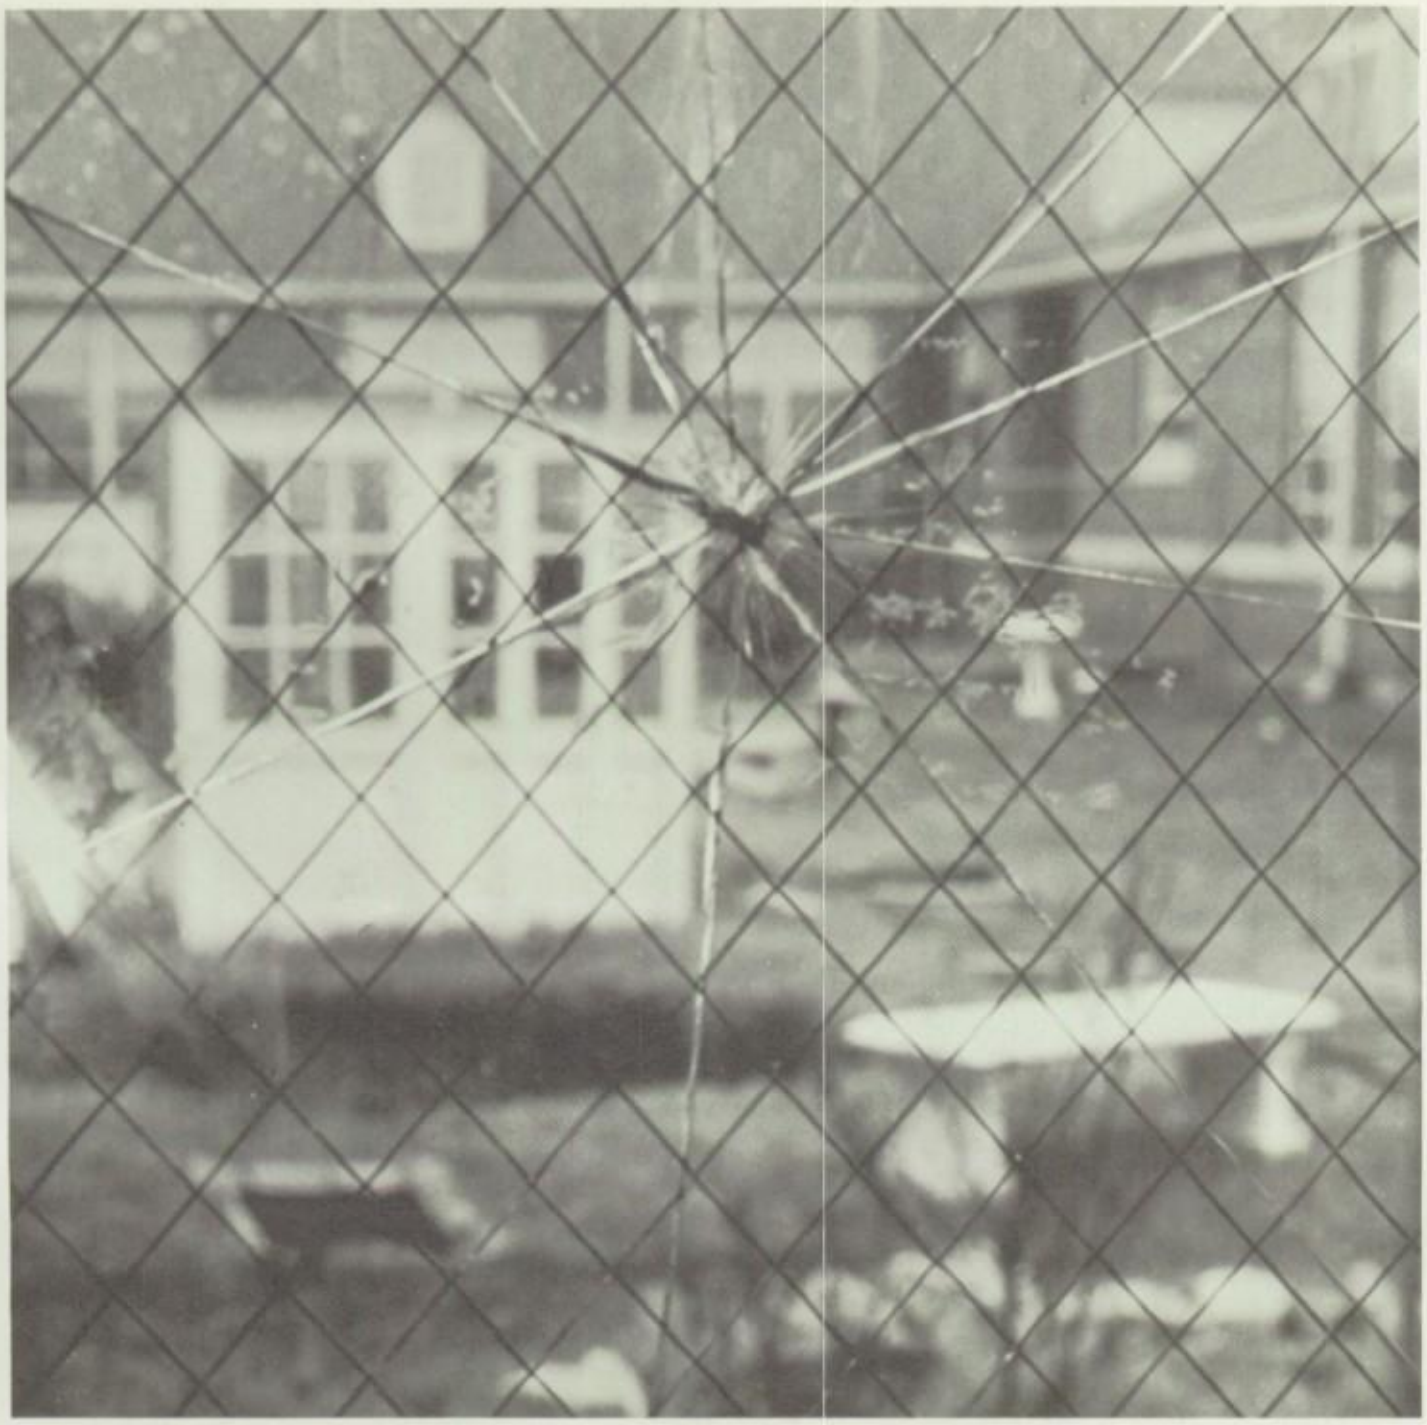
Cathy Gains Junior Homecoming Crown; Mighty Falcons Conquer Frayser 6-0

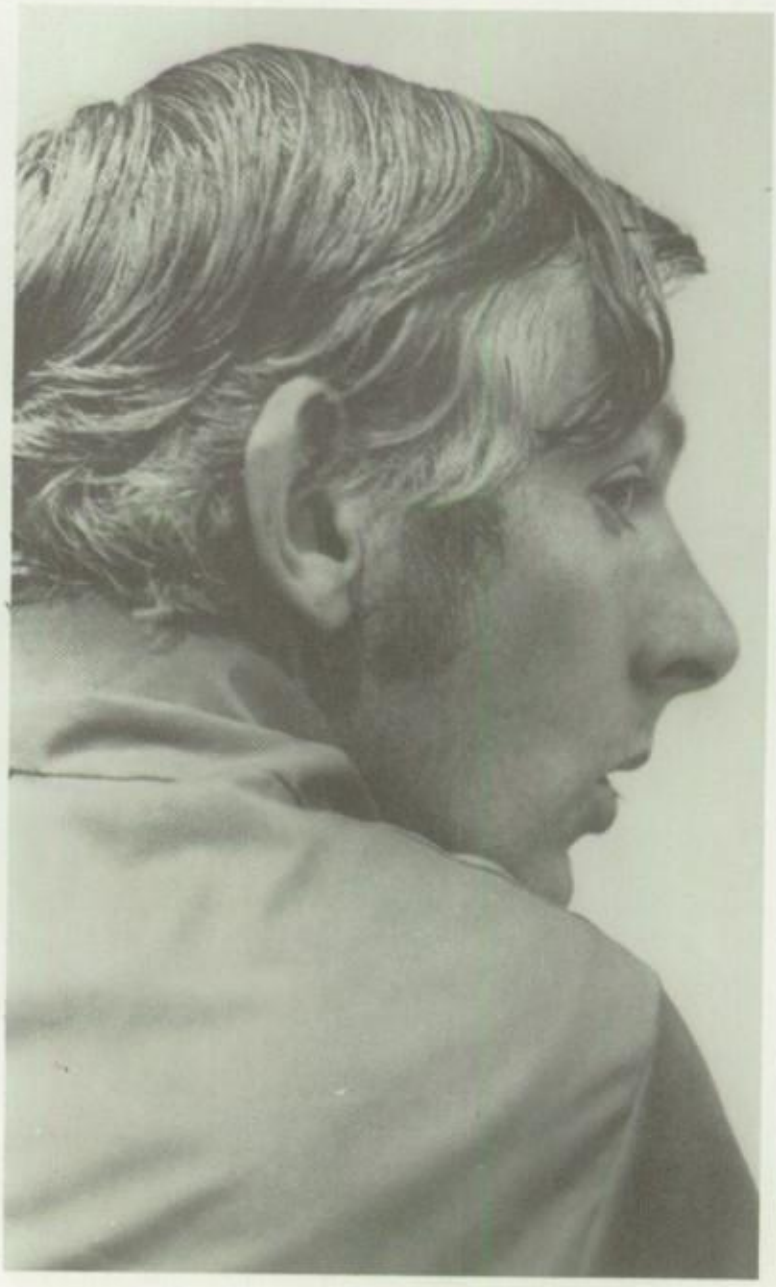


Various Means Devised To Pass Time

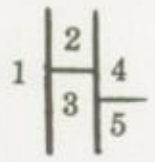


1/Sleeping, a favorite afternoon pastime among students, was one in which this cafeteria worker also indulged.
2/Wrestling created a new after school diversion for the competitive.
3/The biology garden, a project of the AP biology classes, helped to break the monotony of day to day procedures.
4/For Mark Acuff, producing instant fever was the quickest way of avoiding those hot afternoons in boring classes.



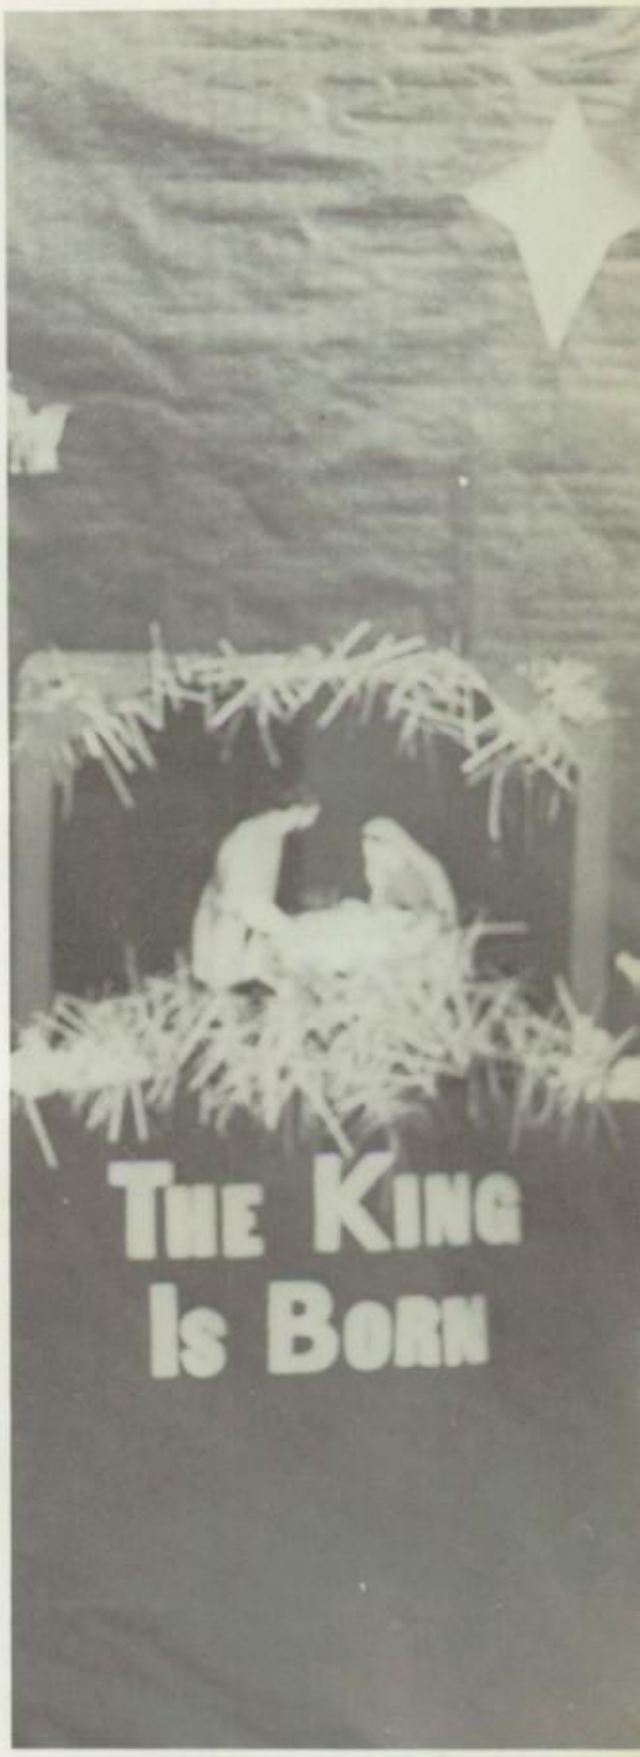


Afternoons Involve More Than Classes



1/While their children were in class, parents met in the home economics living room for a PTA meeting.
2/Pep rallies broke the monotony of a dull afternoon for junior high young people.
3/As administrative assistant, Mr. Ray Ford kept a watchful eye on busy students.
4/The sight of Don Donahoe and Candy Shepard carrying dummy legs into the D.E. classroom might have seemed a little strange to an unsuspecting visitor.
5/Anticipating the despair of failure, Algebra II students labored over mid-term exams.

Toys, Teddy Bears, And Smiling Faces — Students Usher In The Holiday Season



THE KING

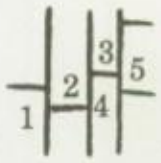
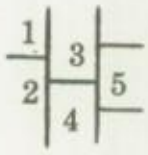
Evening Entertainment Is For Everyone



1/Kingsbury's ninth grade singers chose to present "Belle of the West" as their musical for this year.
2/Romance, popular with any age group, added the perfect touch for sentimental viewers.
3/Ridiculous Night found fathers and male teachers participating in a rollicking game of basketball.
4/Members of the fairer sex, mothers and female teachers, proved their athletic ability by getting in on some of the action.
5/Jim Hover gave his father a few pointers on the most effective and successful plays to use.

After School Hours Are Active Hours; Students Choose Different Diversions



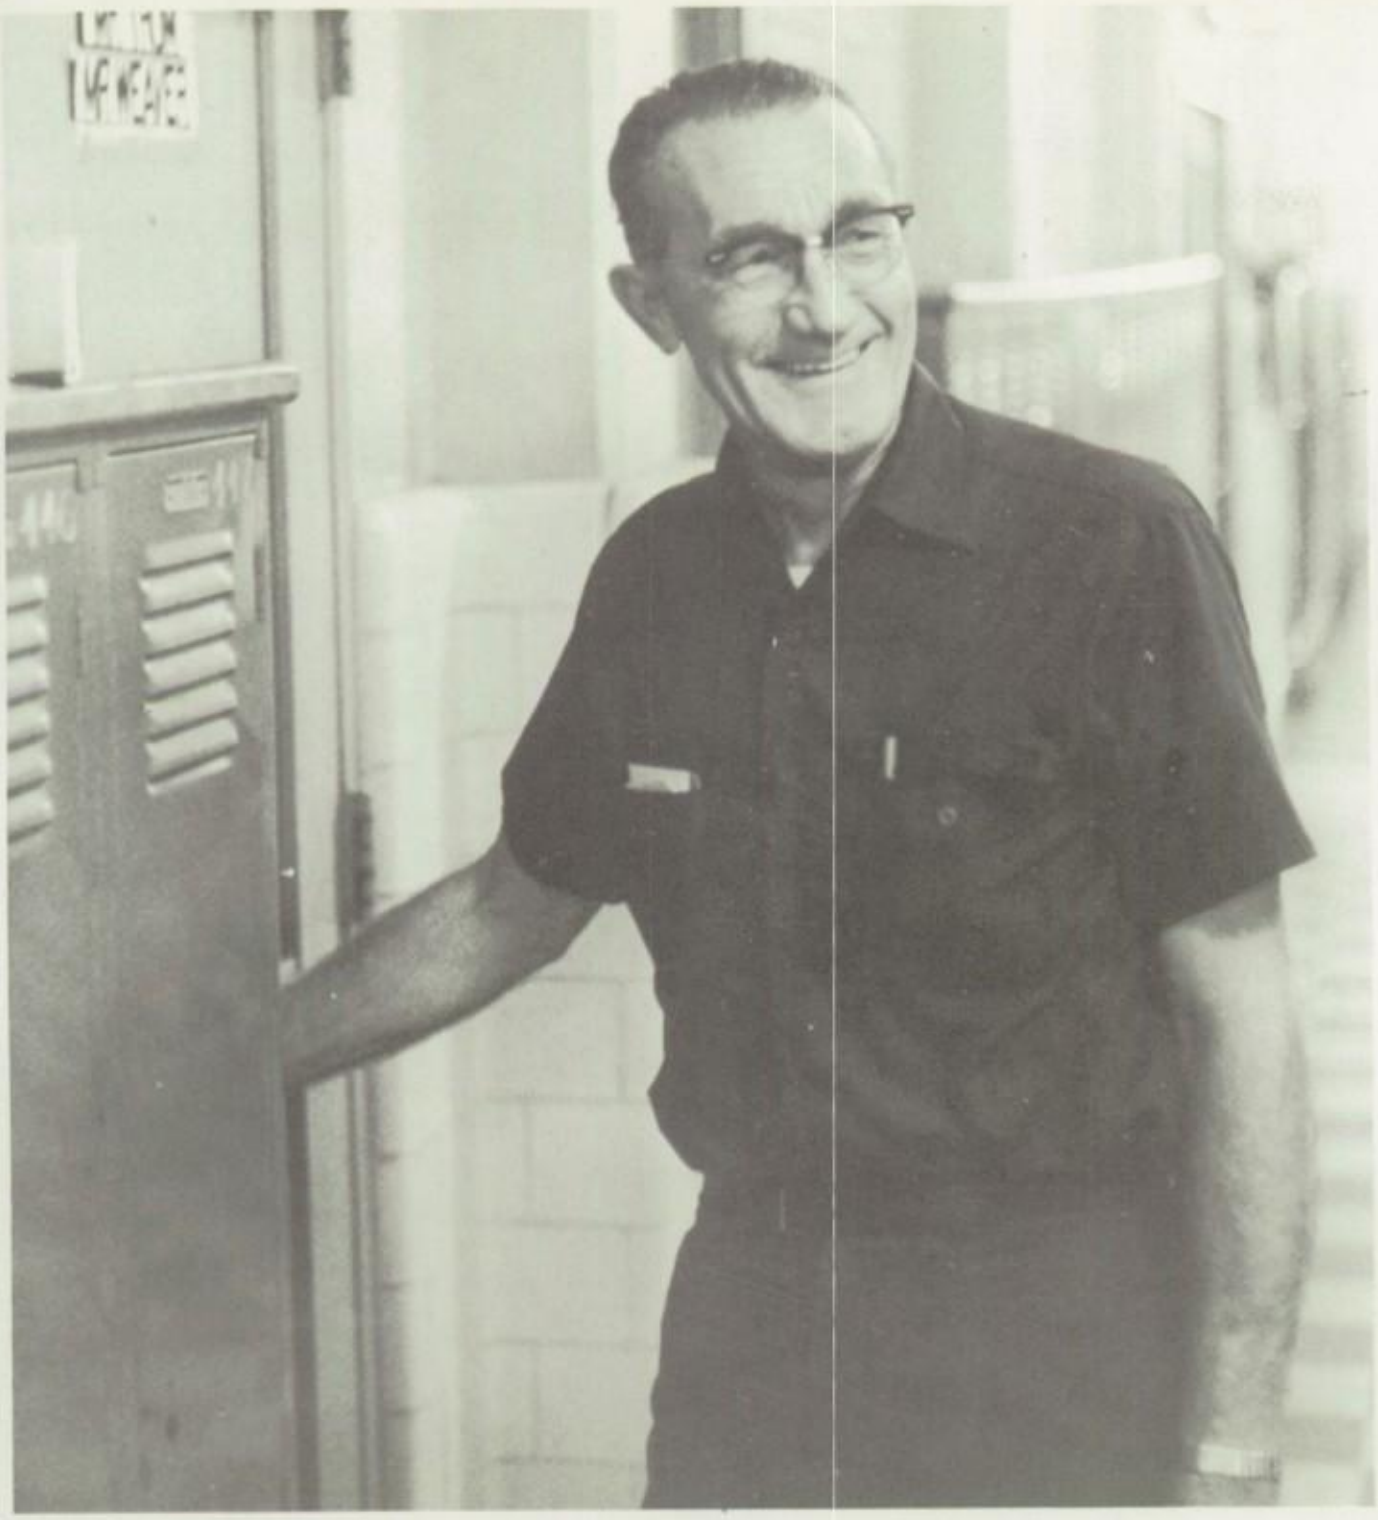
1/Coaches Belew and Brock observed the junior high football team in action and noted ways to improve performance.

2/Utilizing free time, beginner band members cultivated their new found talent.

3/Mr. Carl Thom exhibited the relieved smile typical of many of the workers as school ended for another day.

4/Having athletic study hall last period gave Norman Danoti and Kenny Daniel time to work out for the track season.

5/Classes over, our photographers sought out unusual shots such as this.



KINGSBURY

ROTC Represents Kingsbury In Parade

1/Veterans' Day found Kingsbury's ROTC sponsors marching in the annual parade.

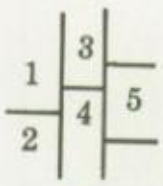
2/ROTC queen Marcille Wildes took her place of honor in the Kingsbury car with sponsor advisor Mrs. Marian Forrest.

3/Proudly bearing American flags, the Kingsbury Color Guard paid tribute to the country and her war veterans.

4/With excellent marching form, sponsors proved that "practice makes perfect."

5/ROTC Cadet Police, led by Joe Hogan, exhibited typical drill precision.

Devoted Effort Yields Musical Success



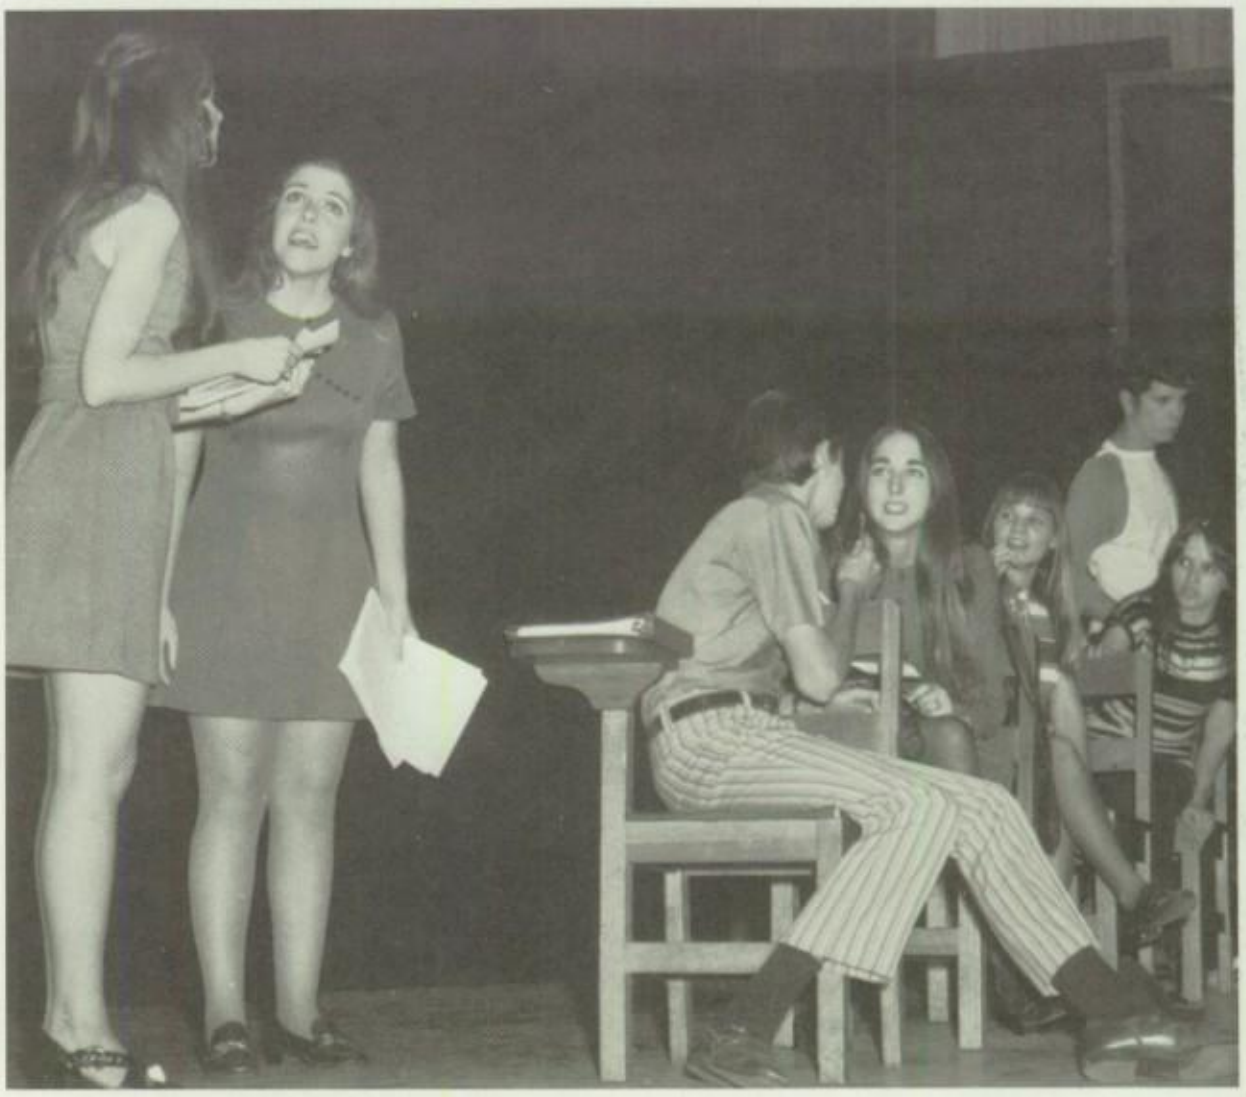
1/Scenes such as this one with Tim Swindell, Barbara Simmons, and Richard Higgins induced the laughter that made "Annie Get Your Gun" such a hit.

2/Annie listened as Buffalo Bill told her of her coming victory in the shooting match.

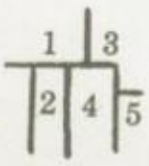
3/Joining hands, a tired cast received the applause they so much deserved.

4/Eddie Bousson, as Frank Butler, and Paige Petty, who shared the role of Annie Oakley with Donna Higgins, proudly took their bows after a fine performance.

5/Congratulatory hugs were in order as relieved performers realized that their play had been a success.



Speech Students Produce Fall Comedy



1/The Speech department's fall production, "Up the Down Staircase," was the story of a young, inexperienced teacher and her unruly students.

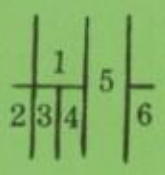
2/Miss Silvia Barrett (Donna Higgins) found it difficult to comply with the administration's requests as they were delivered by Katherine Walzon (Mary Worlds).

3/Cast members, thrilled with their success, exchanged handshakes, hugs, and compliments.

4/Assistant principal Mr. Barry Owen offered congratulations to the cast, exhausted after a superb performance.

5/Relieved and free from the tension of past weeks, student director Clyde Davidson mingled with the actors backstage.

Pageant Judges Favor Donna Higgins



1/With a sparkling personality and an amorous nature, Martha Worlds won the Miss Congeniality title in the 1971-72 Junior Miss Pageant.

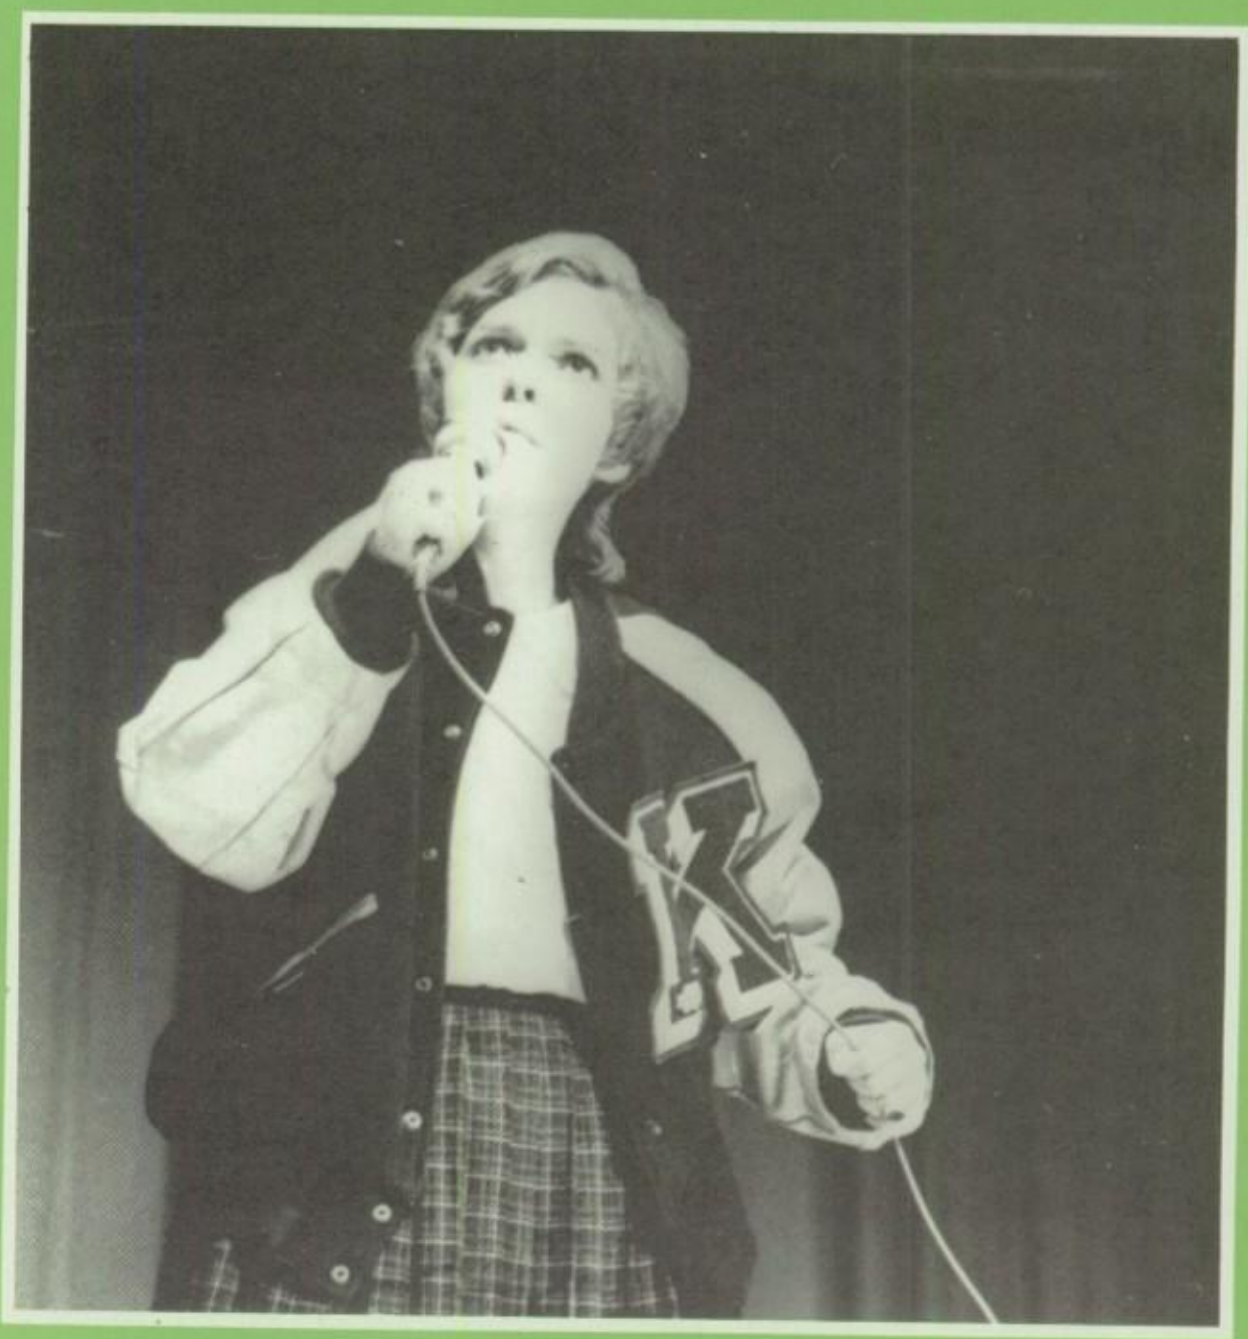
2/A portrait in pastels, by Robyn Gridley, is an example of the variety of talent presented in this year's contest.

3/Elaine Duke's charming smile combined with natural poise helped to gain her a position among the ten finalists.

4/Backstage, Judy Penna's expression of nervous anticipation was typical of all the contestants.

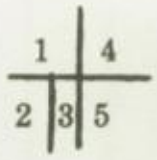
5/Proud and jubilant, Donna Higgins took her place as the 1971-72 Junior Miss after being crowned by last year's pageant winner Kathy Bryson.

6/Tori Petty successfully exhibited her dancing ability and was named first alternate.



Students Unite For Clean-Up Campaign

Judy Davidson Wins Homecoming Honor



1/Former homecoming queen Debra Jo Jacobson crowned Judy Davidson during halftime ceremonies.

2/Kingsbury's 1971-72 homecoming queen, with her escort Terry Floyd, was presented to the student body after receiving her crown.

3/Homecoming spirit ran high as cheerleaders Suzanne Smith, Janet Patey, and Terri Davidson led the team on to a 29-18 victory over Treadwell.

4/Halftime entertainment was provided by the Kingsbury band, directed by Mr. Allen Goldsmith.

5/Proud homecoming candidates, Tori Petty, second alternate; Gail McLemore, first alternate; Judy Davidson, queen; and Paula Taylor, third alternate, composed the 1971 homecoming court.

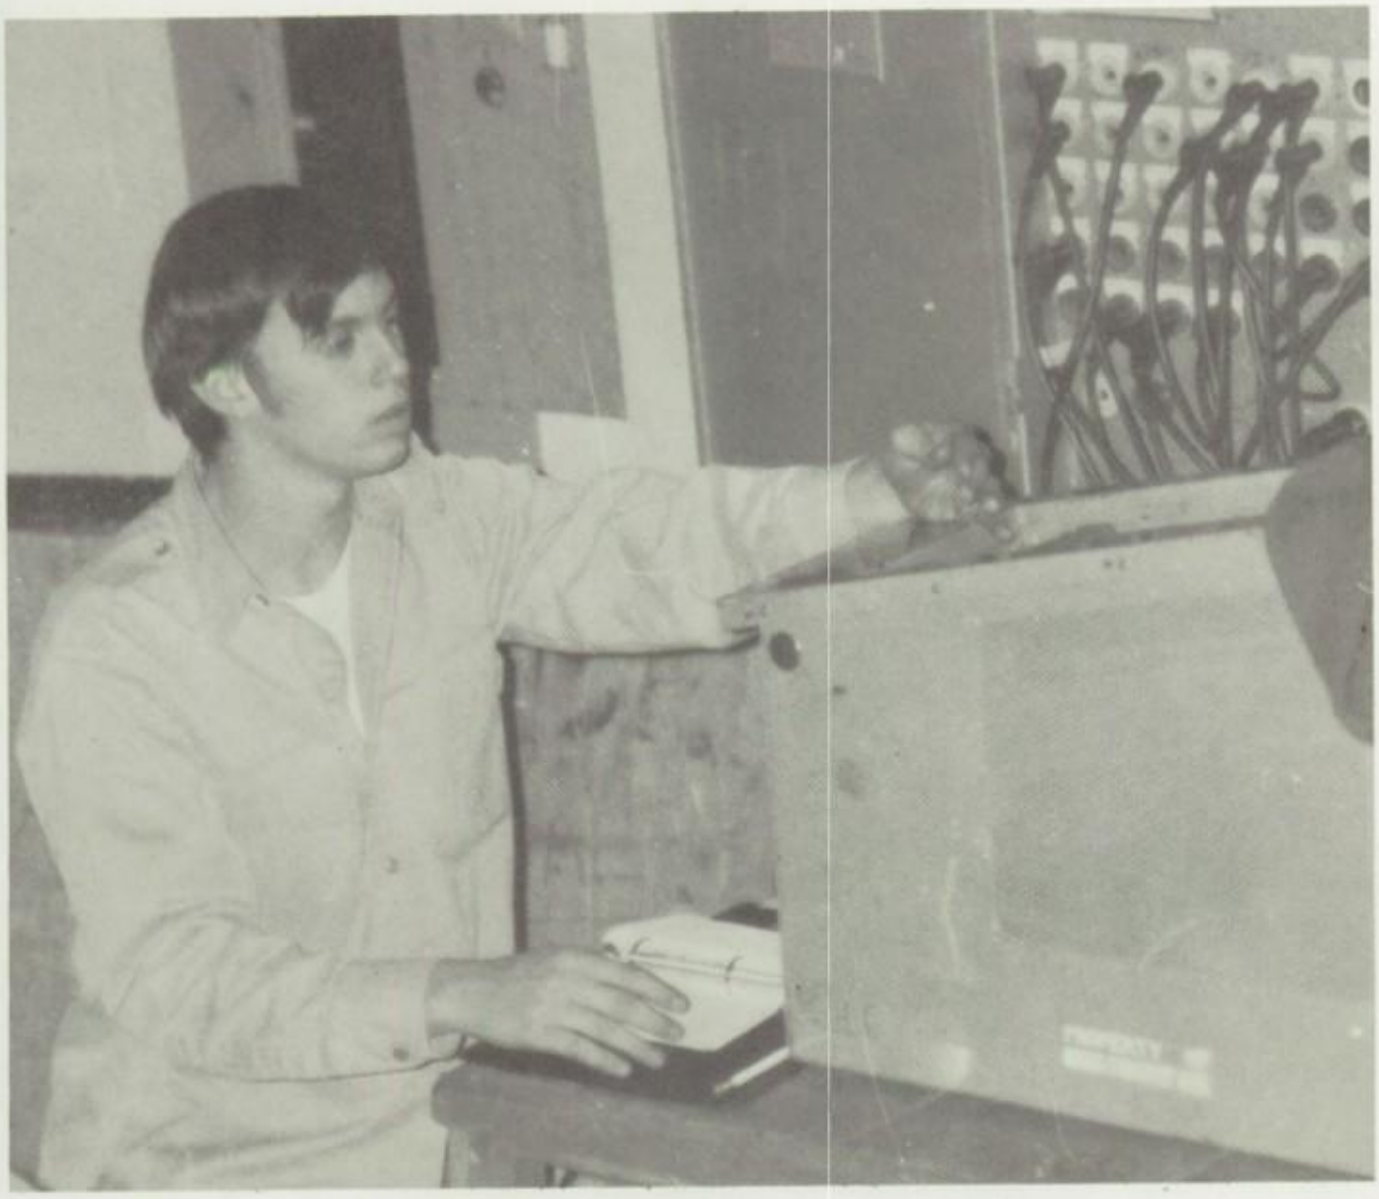
'Fantasticks' Initiate New Theater Concept; Art Students Display Variety of Talents



1 | 2 | 4
3 | 5

1/Mrs. Evelyn Crawford looked approvingly upon the work of the students at the annual Art Fair.

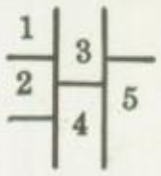
2/Inquisitively Russ Ruark and Mark Simmons gazed upon fellow classmates' work.

3/The Art Fair's General Store.

4/Weird lighting for "The Fantasticks" was artistically handled by John Trobaugh.

5/El Gallo, Garry Barnes, sang a sweet melody in an attempt to convince The Girl played by Mary Worlds to be his.

Picnic And Banquet Precede Graduation



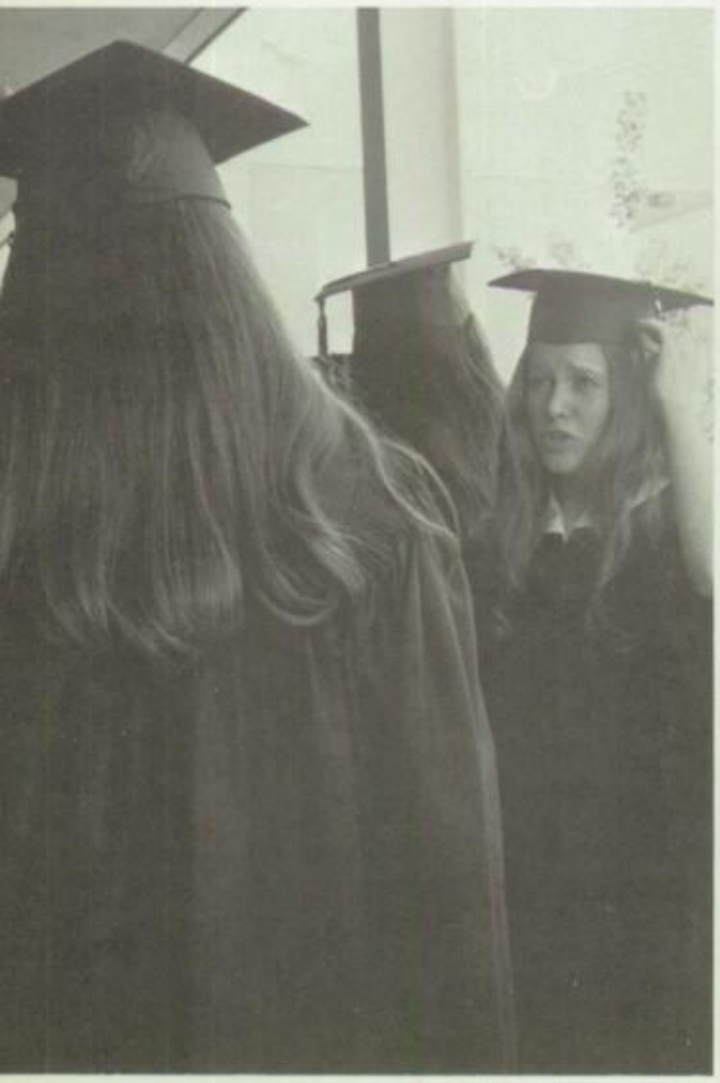
1/Ellendale's pool was the center of activity at this year's Senior picnic with friends swimming, (clothes and all) sunbathing, and building these improvised pyramids.

2/Julia Hicks and Judy Stevens, as graduating Juniors, were permitted to attend this annual activity.

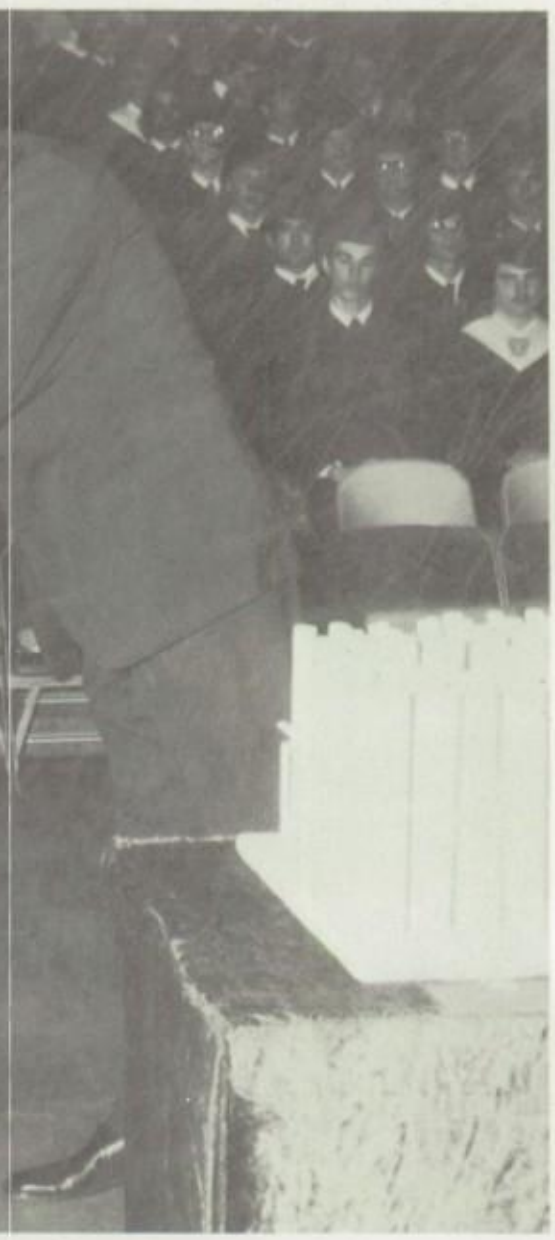
3/Anticipating an exciting evening, seniors filed into Holiday Inn's Founders' Hall where the 1972 banquet was held.

4/Garry Barnes added to other entertainment by reading the humorous Class Prophecy.

5/A live band provided music, and students took advantage of the opportunity to enjoy an after-dinner dance.



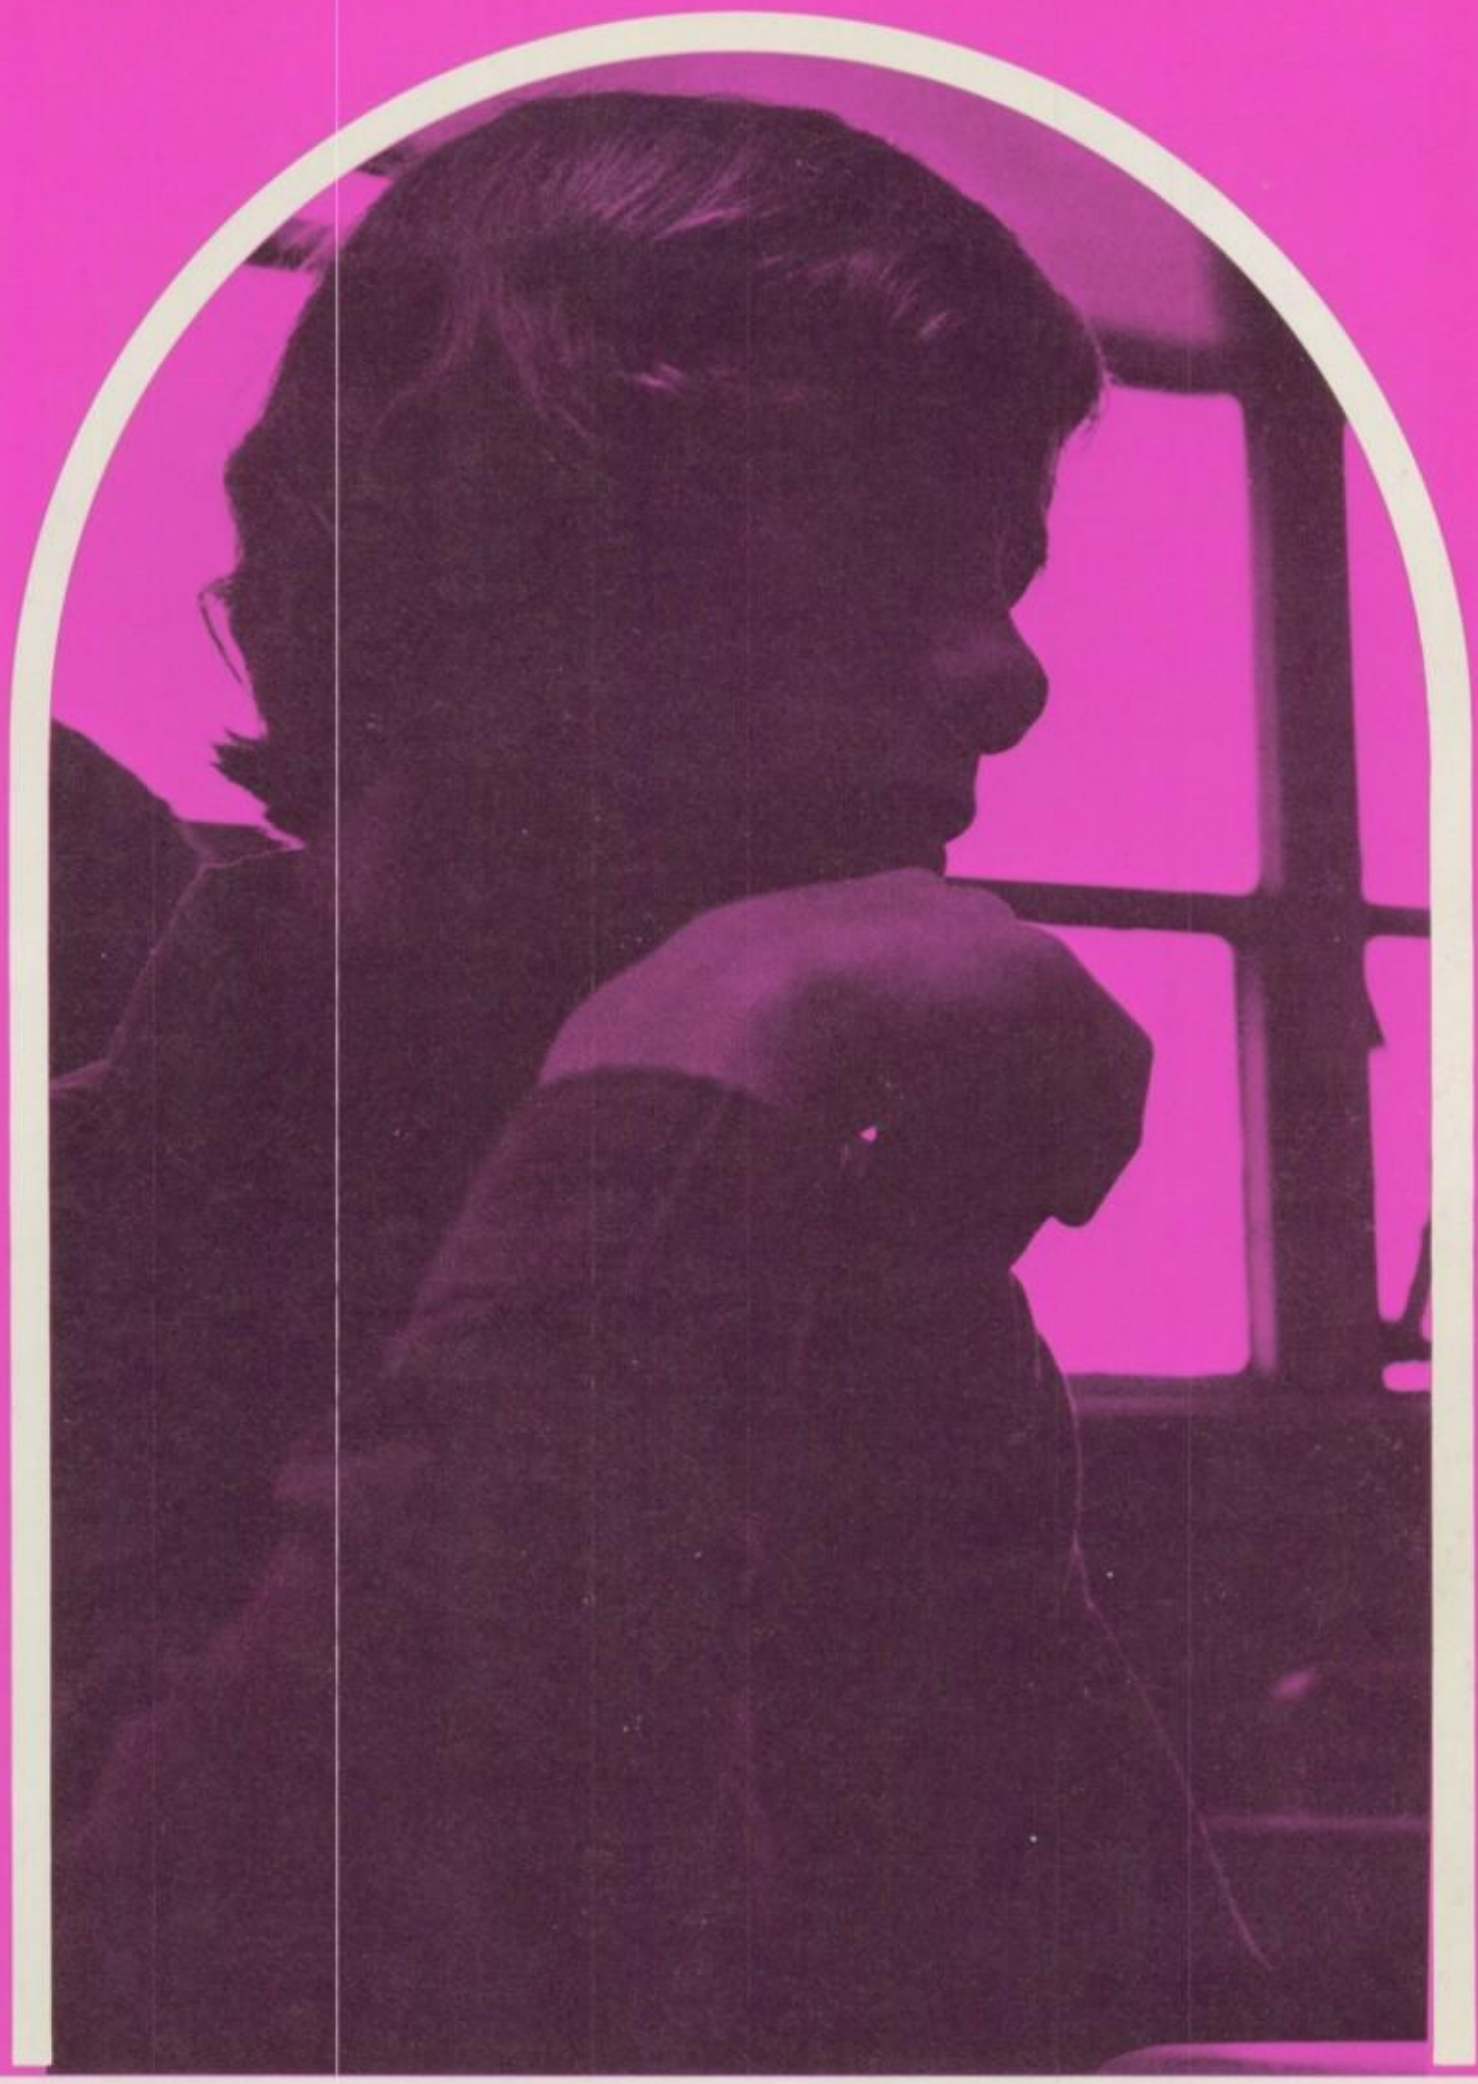
Graduation — First Step Of New Beginning



MY CREED

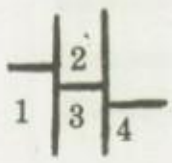
I would be true, for there are those who trust me;
I would be pure, for there are those who care;
I would be strong, for there is much to suffer;
I would be brave, for there is much to dare.
I would be friend of all — the poor — the friendless;
I would be giving and forget the gift;
I would be humble, for I know my weakness;
I would look up — and laugh — and love — and lift.

— Howard Arnold Walter

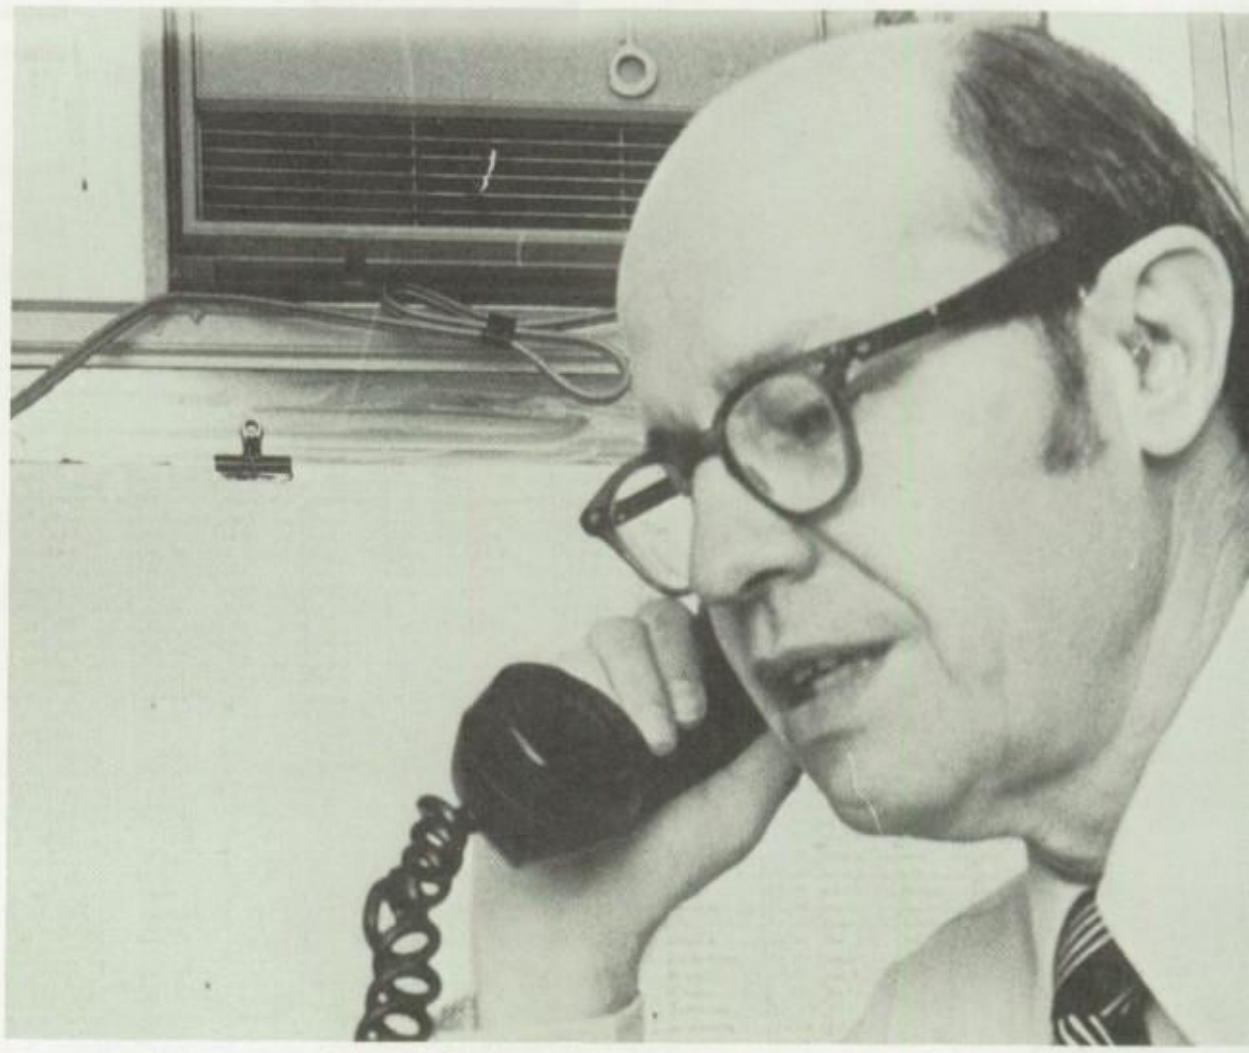


CURRICULUM

GUIDANCE



1/Mr. Wicker's day began before homeroom when he was available to counsel students.
2/Mr. Hawkins tried to solve an important matter on his office phone.
3/While assisting Diane Estep with her schedule, Mrs. Clayton pointed out the good aspects of being a math major.
4/Mrs. Hendricks awaited her next bewildered student with a jovial smile.



Memphis Honors William M. Wicker

William M. Wicker was named "Educator of the Year" by the Greater Memphis State, Inc. for 21 years of faithful service to Kingsbury. In accordance with this event, Governor Dunn declared November 23 William M. Wicker Day. Mr. Wicker proved his loyalty to KHS students when he gave up an offer to be supervisor of personnel for the city school system. He acquired his bachelor's and master's degrees at the University of Mississippi and is seeking his doctorate from Memphis State University.

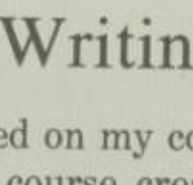
Creative Writing Class Participates In National Project

When I looked on my course selection sheet for English I saw the course creative writing and knew that was to be my choice. Just the idea of being able to use my own talent to learn seemed like more of a "freedom course" instead of the ordinary English Seniors are usually required to take.

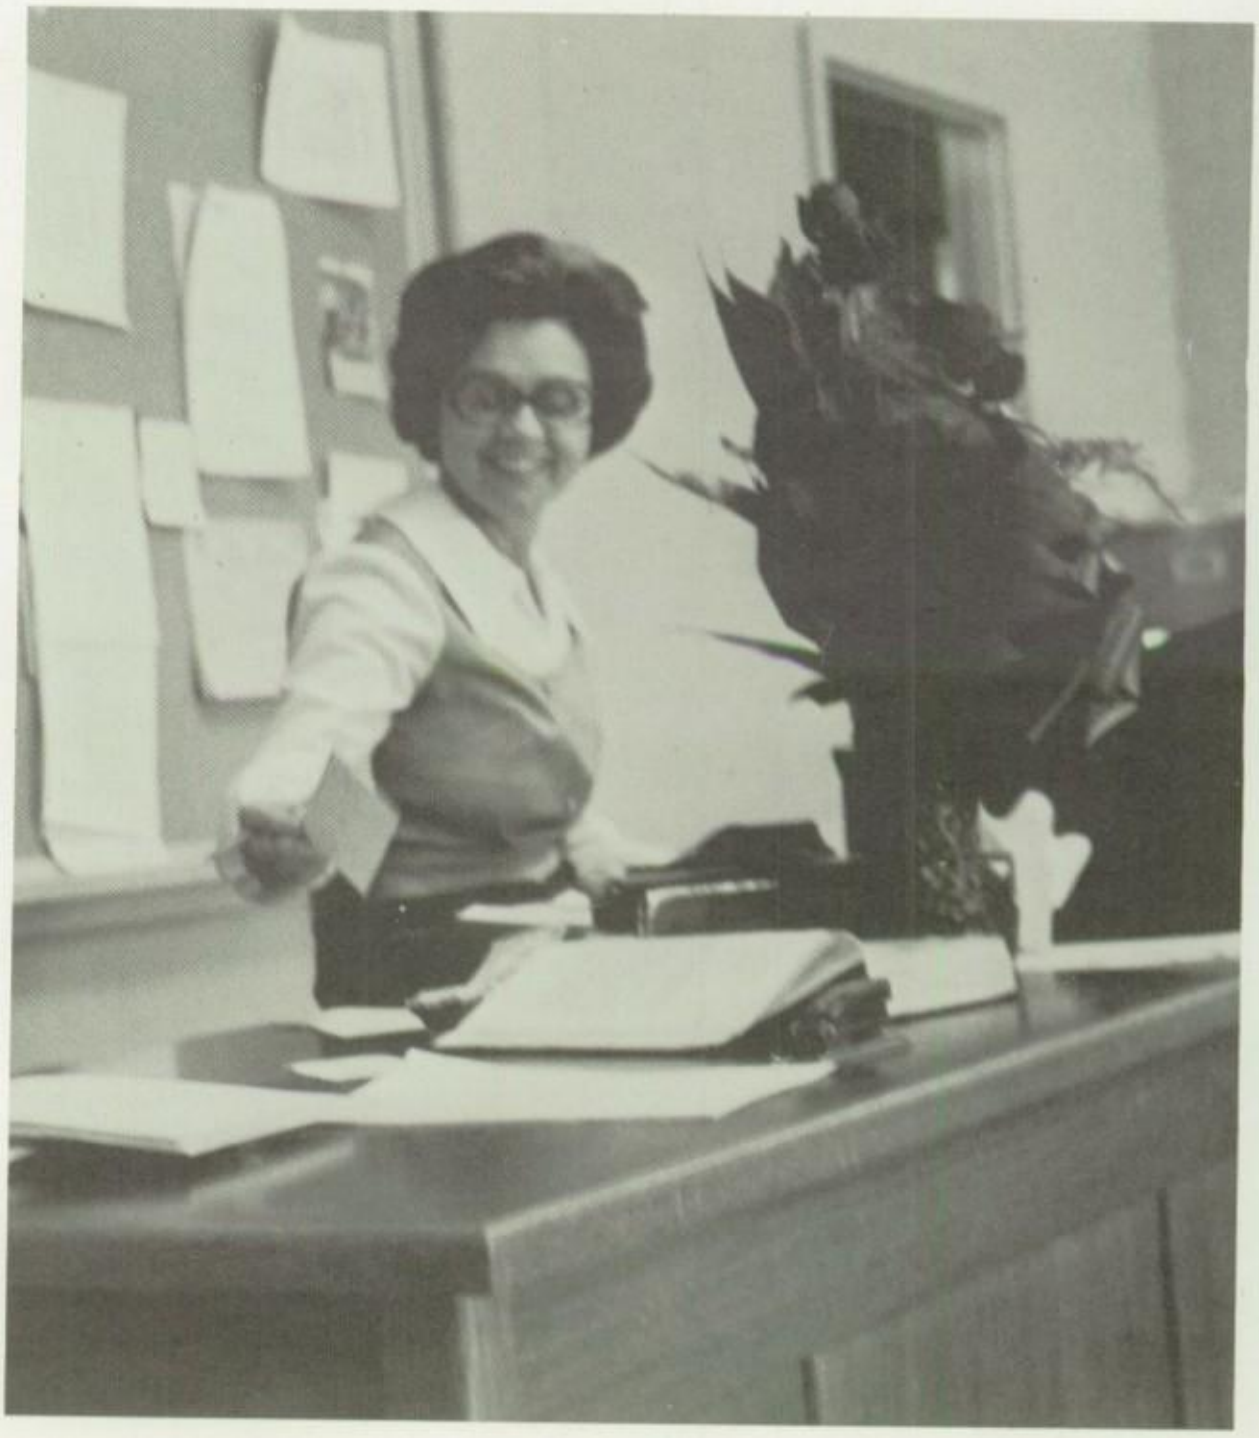
The Board of Education recognized our progressive class when we were asked to participate in a nationwide project. In this project, we were asked to center our line of thought around the Victorian Era. Under the supervision of our past teacher, Mr. Yumie Kirk, we wrote poems and short stories which were posted on a poster board painted by some of the creative artists in our class. Our efforts were put into a national magazine which is to aid teachers in instructing students about the various periods of history. This was to be the highlight of the course, and it truly made our year successful and worthwhile.

by Sue Watkins

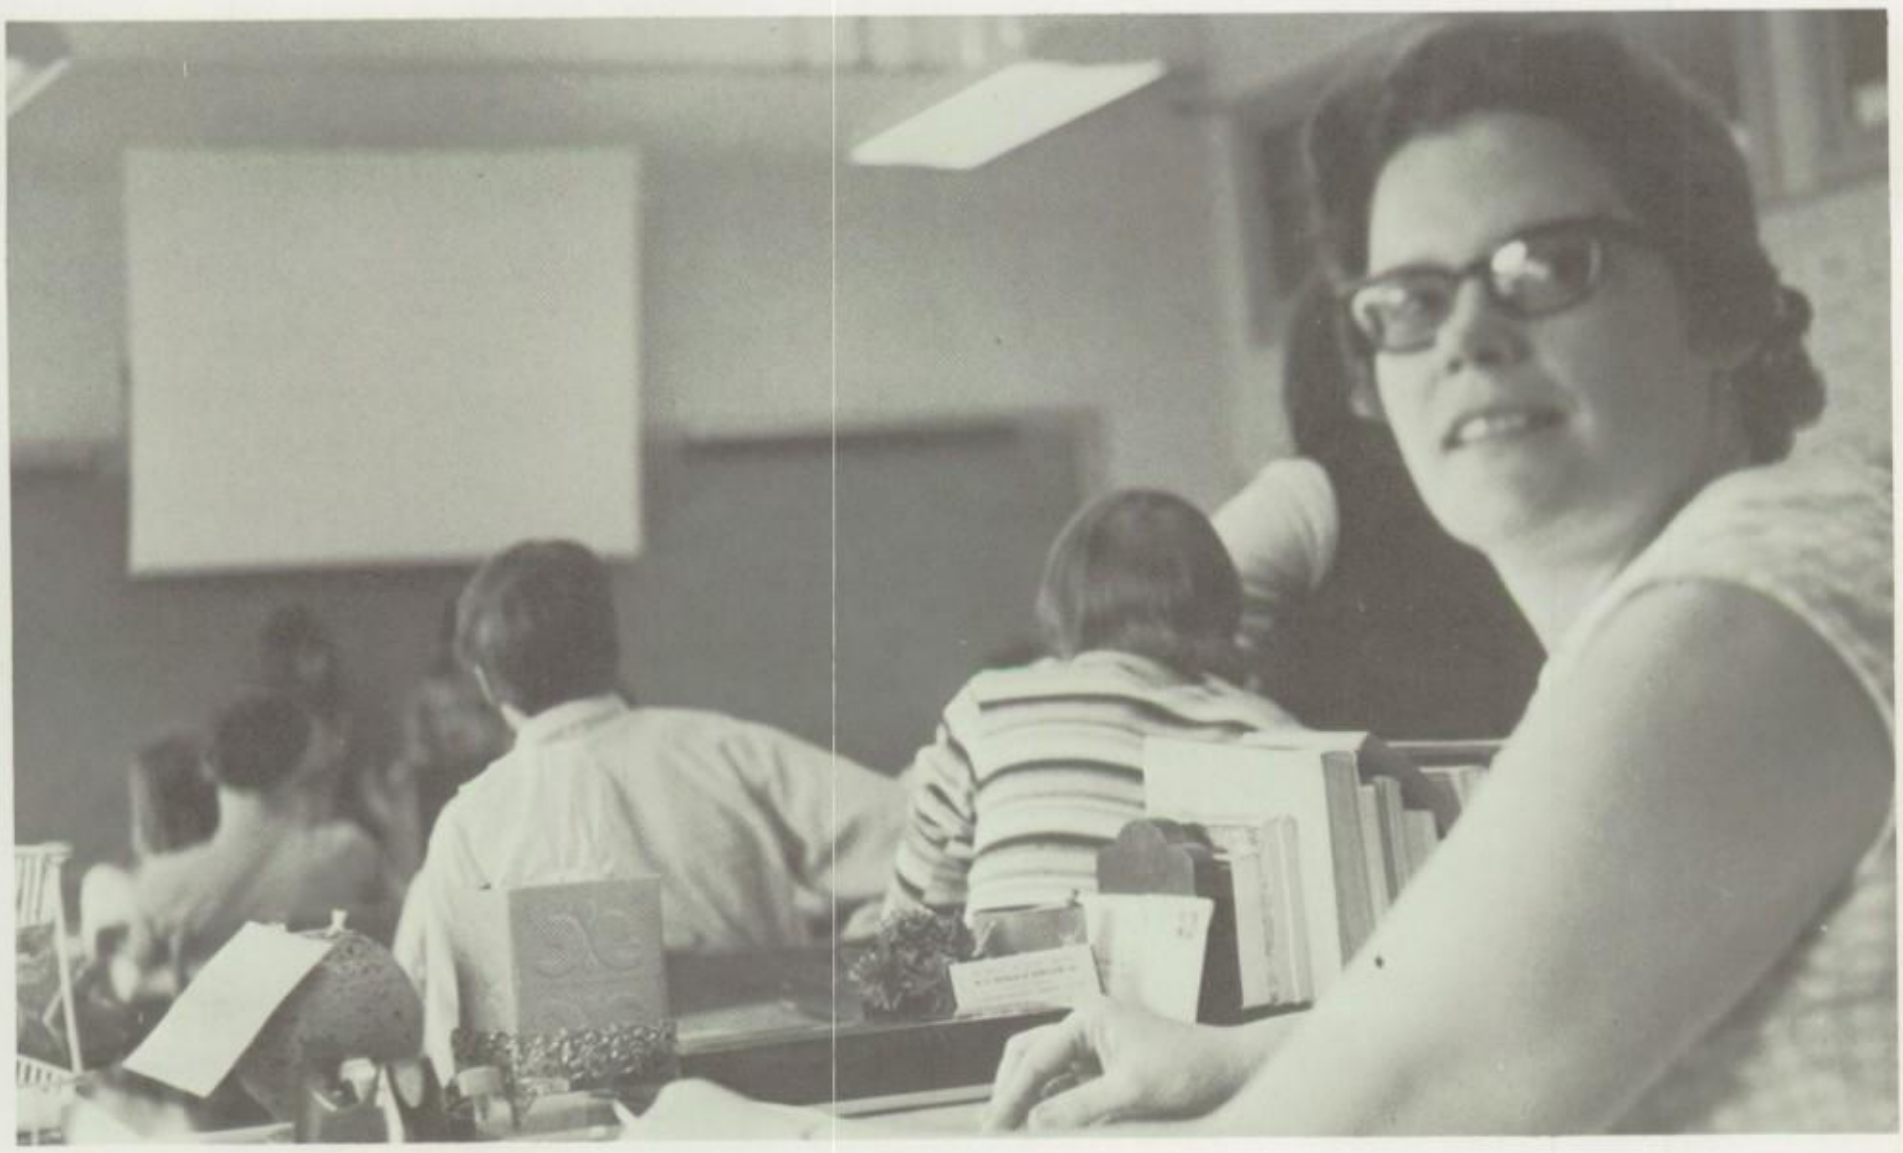
SENIOR ENGLISH



1/Mrs. Mahala Williams admired the red roses given to her by the advanced placement class on their last day of school.
2/Tenth-grade English students received grades on their oral book reports from Mrs. Beverly Herriman.
3/Dale Marshall assisted Mrs. Ardelle Sink in the senior library.
4/Typing at her desk, Mrs. Lorraine Lambert performed one of her duties as the library's secretary.



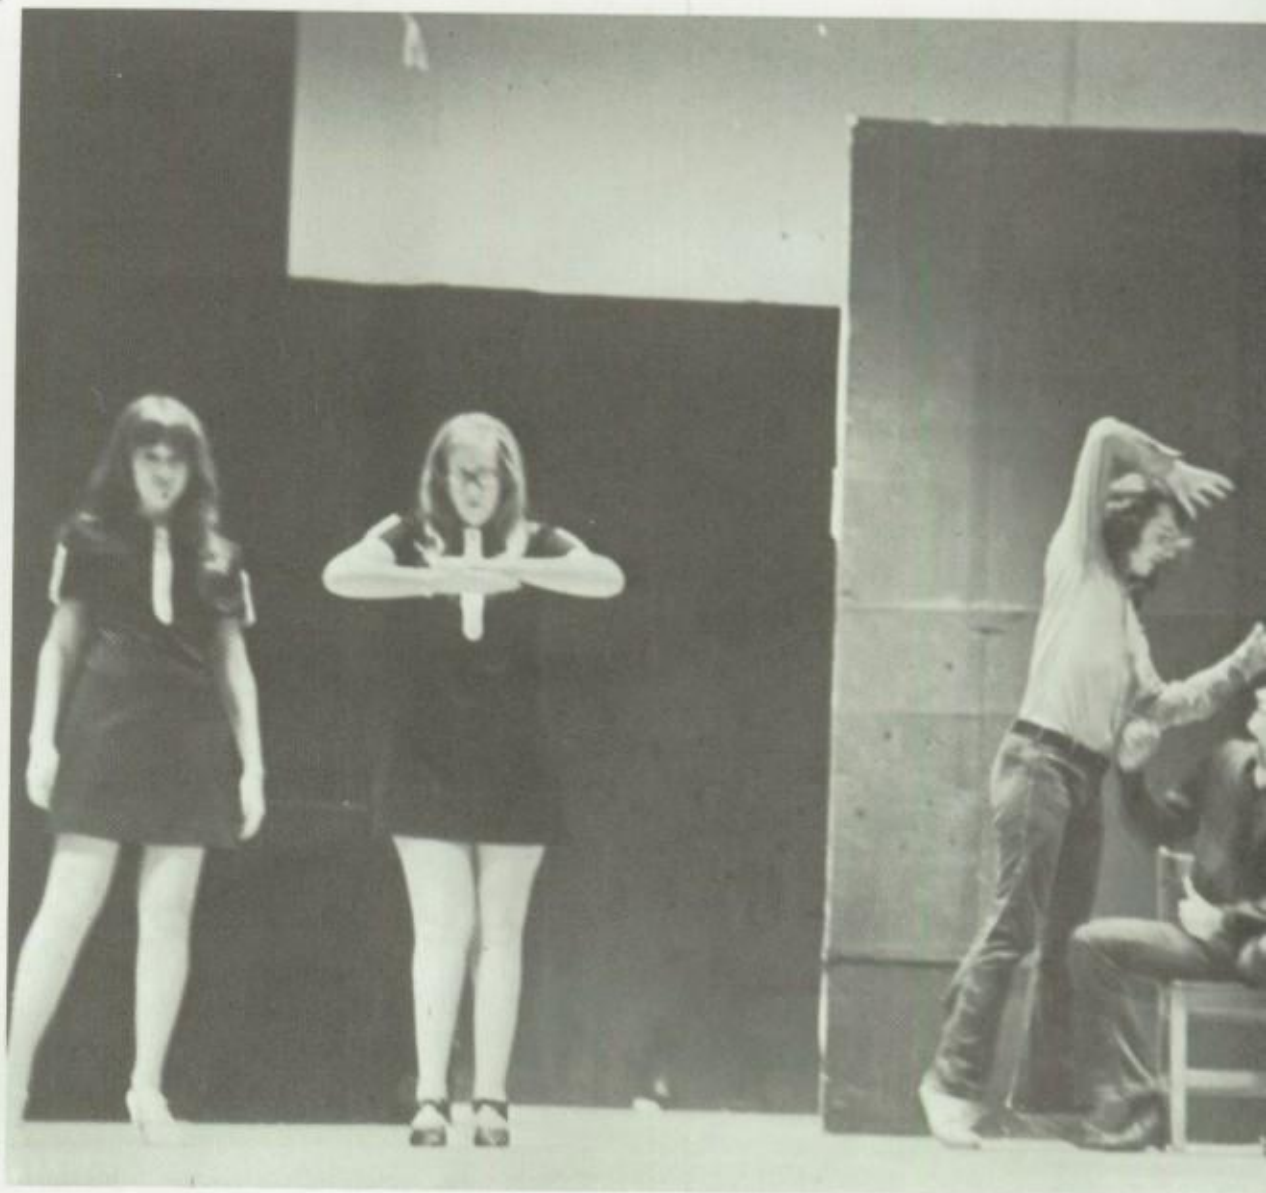
Characters of the Canterbury Tales from a mural done by students of twelfth grade A.P. English.

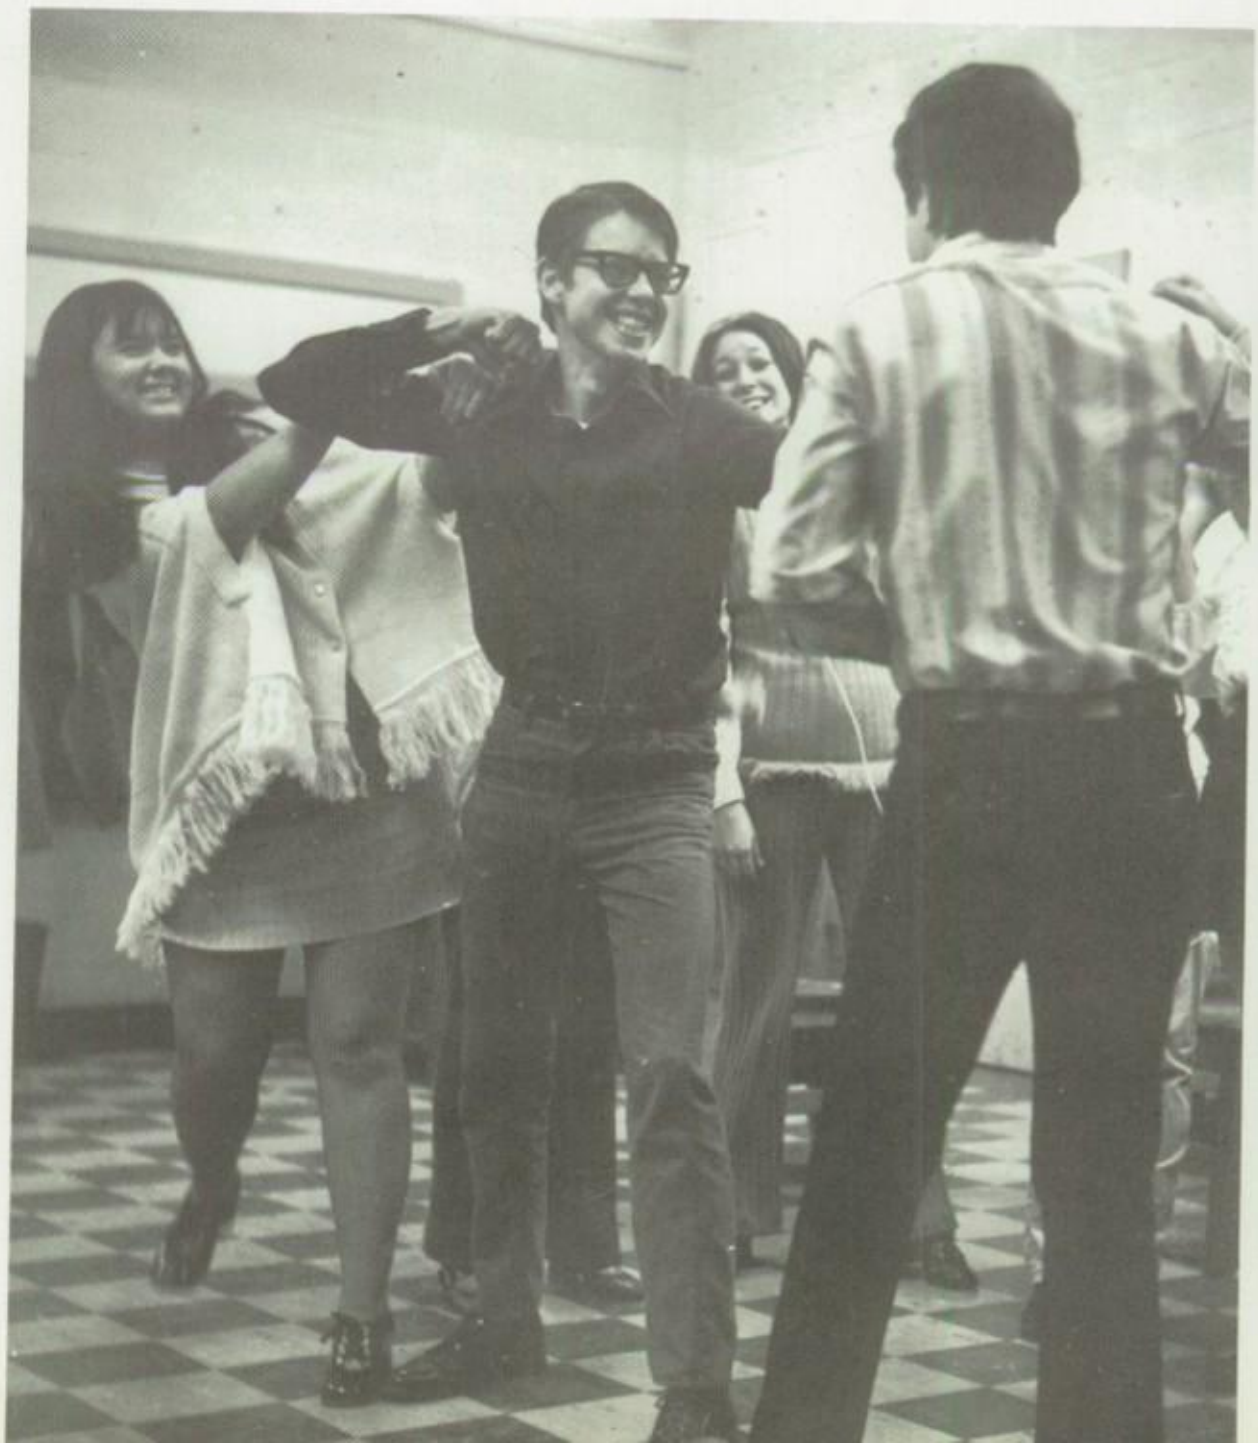


LANGUAGES

1
2 3 4 5

1/Improvisations allowed advanced speech students to show individual talent.
2/At Christmas time, Miss Grantham's Spanish classes learned carols in Spanish.
3/"No, don't!" Sarah Turner pleaded to James Morgan who was about to punch Bobby Frizzell during a speech skit.
4/In the language lab, French I students listened to recordings that helped them to pronounce French as well as to recognize it when spoken.





On Stage Everybody

The Fantastics was an unusual production presented by the speech department. First of all, the play was a musical, the first one the speech department had ever produced, and it was presented in a most unusual fashion called environmental theatre. In an environmental theatre the band, sets, actors, and the audience are all on the stage. The purpose is to give the audience the sensation of being a part of the play. Of course, because of the lack of space, the audiences had to be limited to 100 persons at each of the five performances. The Fantastics was directed by Mike Copeland and Clyde Davidson, and produced by Mrs. Dessie Walker. The music was written by David Everitt who transposed the traditional musical to rock.

Senior Math

1	3

1/Aside from her many duties as math teacher, Mrs. Strange kept busy as business manager for the Talon.

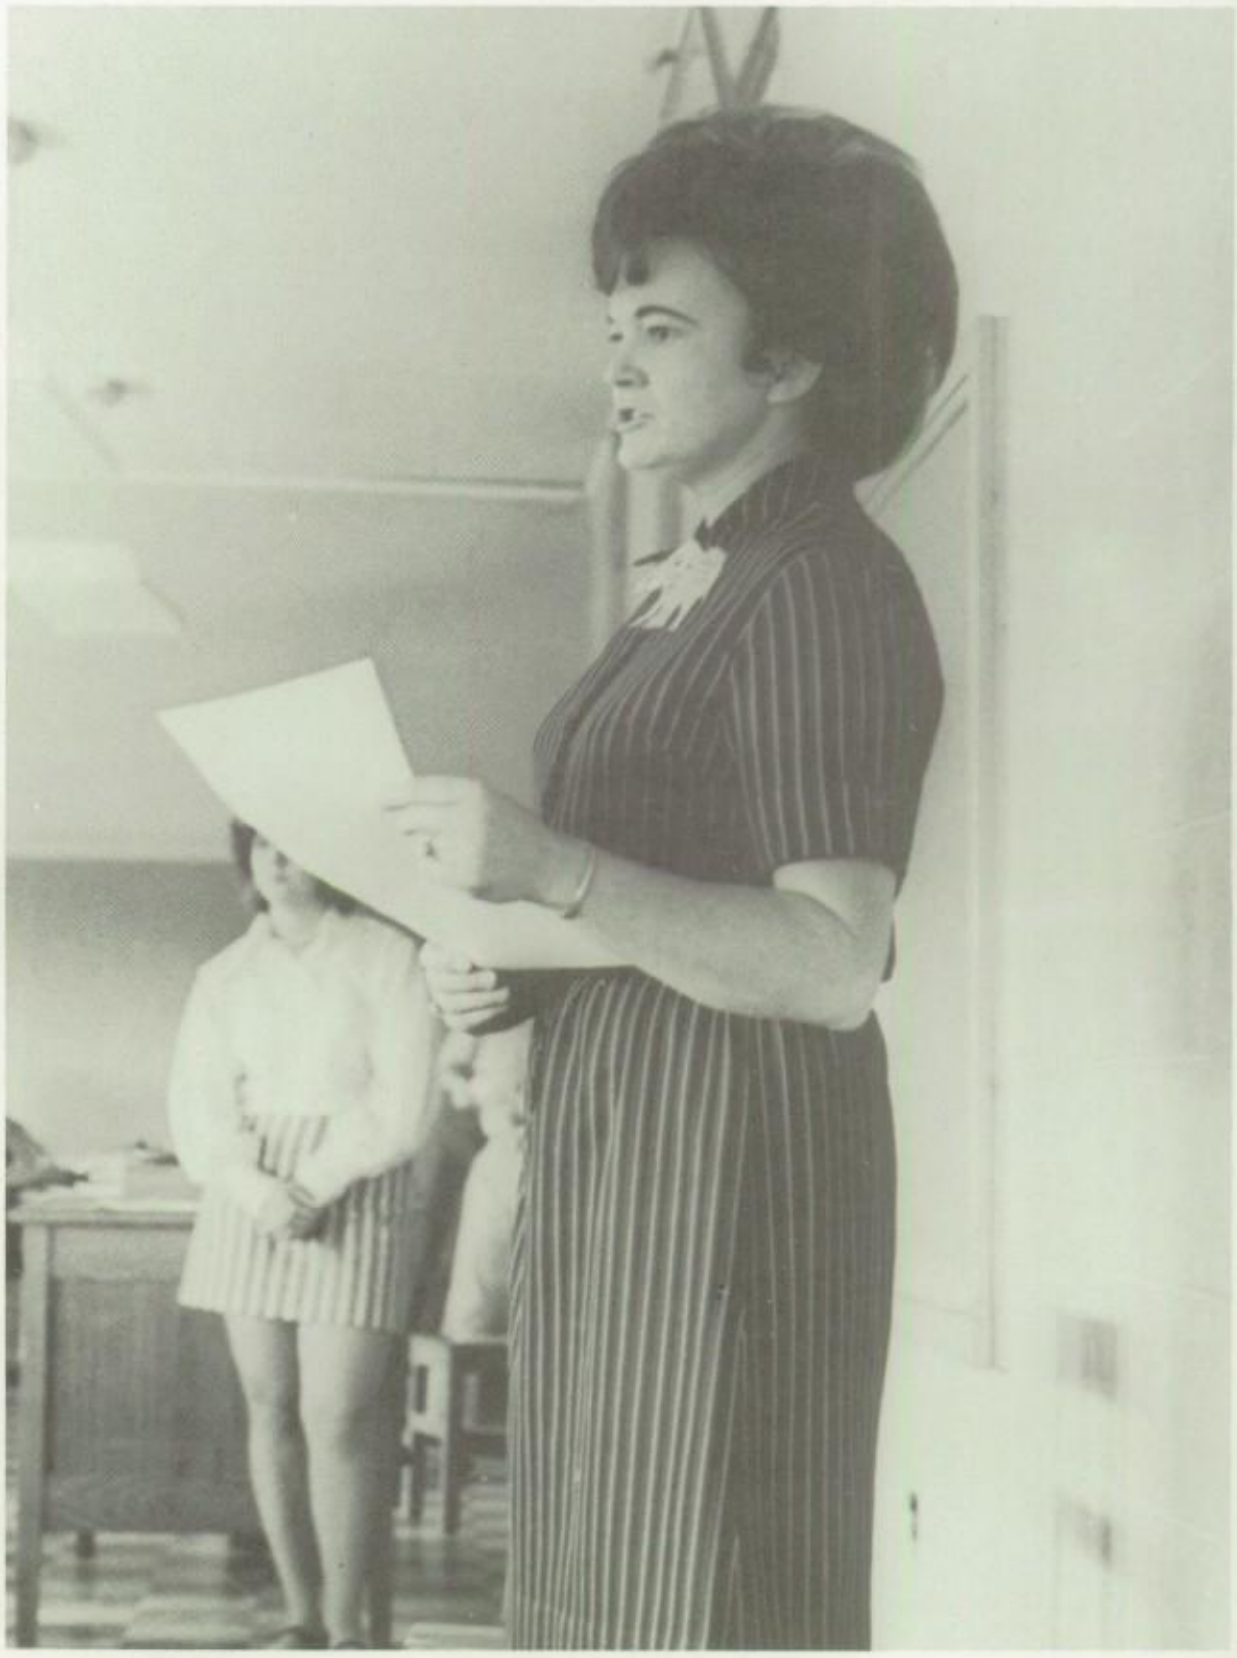
2/Algebra II students concentrated on putting practices learned in class to work as they labored over tests.

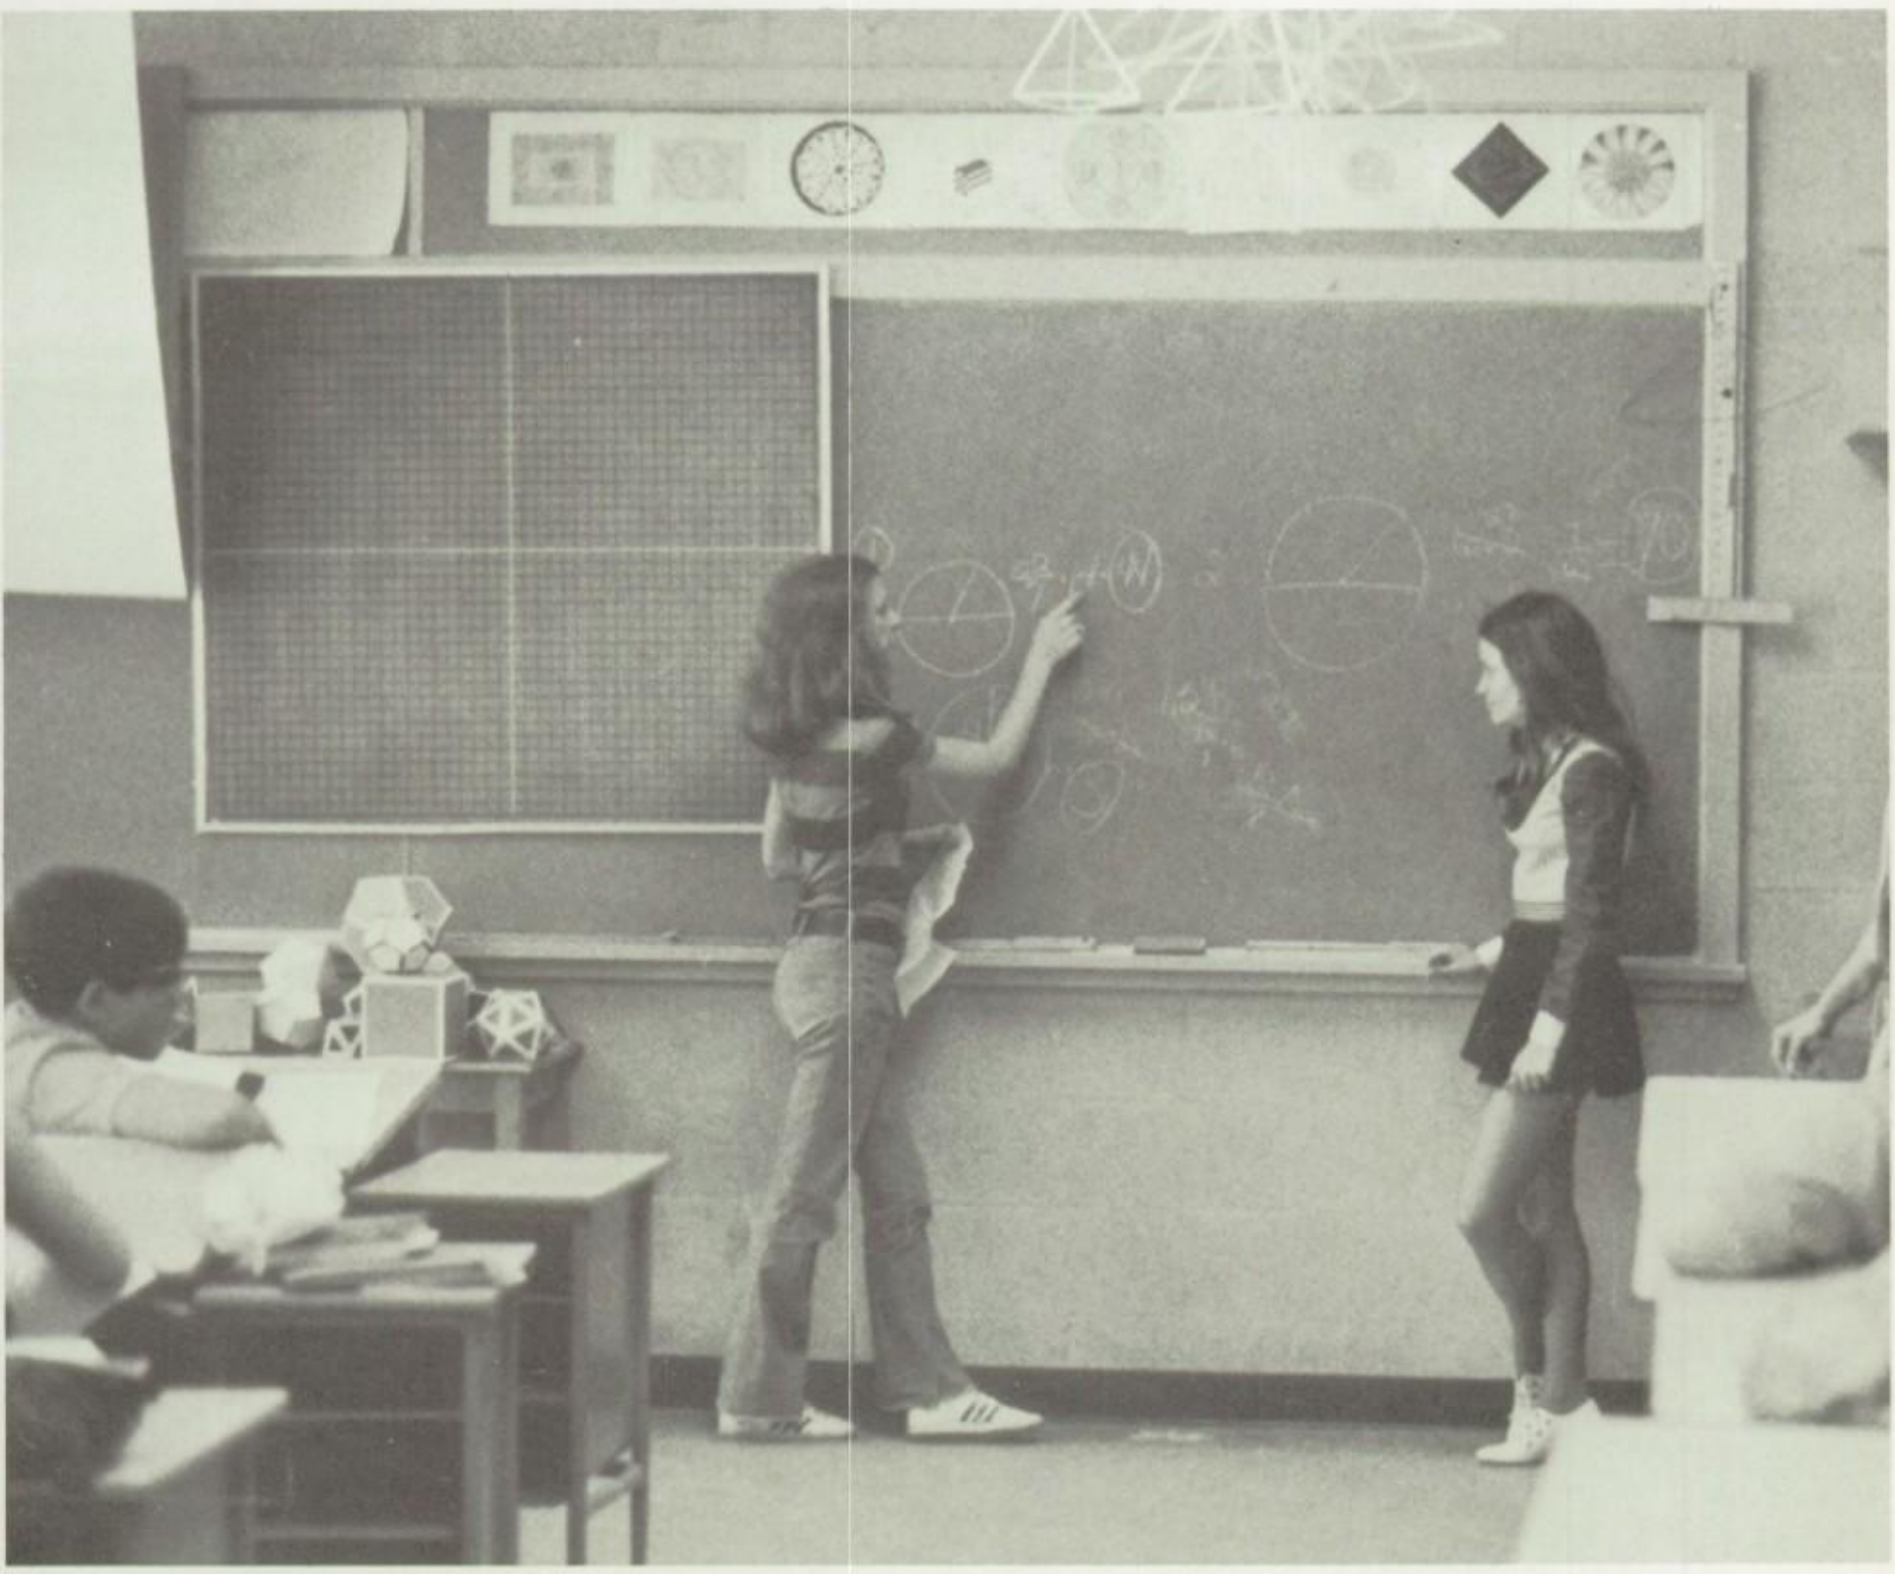
3/Learning the systematic process of problem solving in math class helped Pam Cook and Ann Adamo in everyday predicaments.

Math Contestants Exhibit Skill In Test At M.S.U.

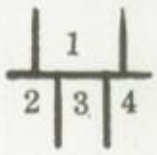
Math contestants from Kingsbury competed against other schools in the Senior Math Contest held at Memphis State. Students compiling the highest scores on a test taken at Kingsbury composed the group which participated.

The finalists of the contest at Memphis State were as follows: Algebra II Nora Hopkins, Gary Gardo, Greg Chapman, Pat Heather, Jimmy Wooten, Allen Herndon. Geometry Billy Gould, Rickie Cooke, Tommy Collier, Joe Sellmansberger, Martha Dearton, Pam Houser, Ken Jarratt. Algebra I Nona Edwards, Ricky Eldridge, Carol Rickardson, David Evans, Cathy Ehrhart, Russ Roark, George Siler, Bobby Wright, Rebecca Rogers.

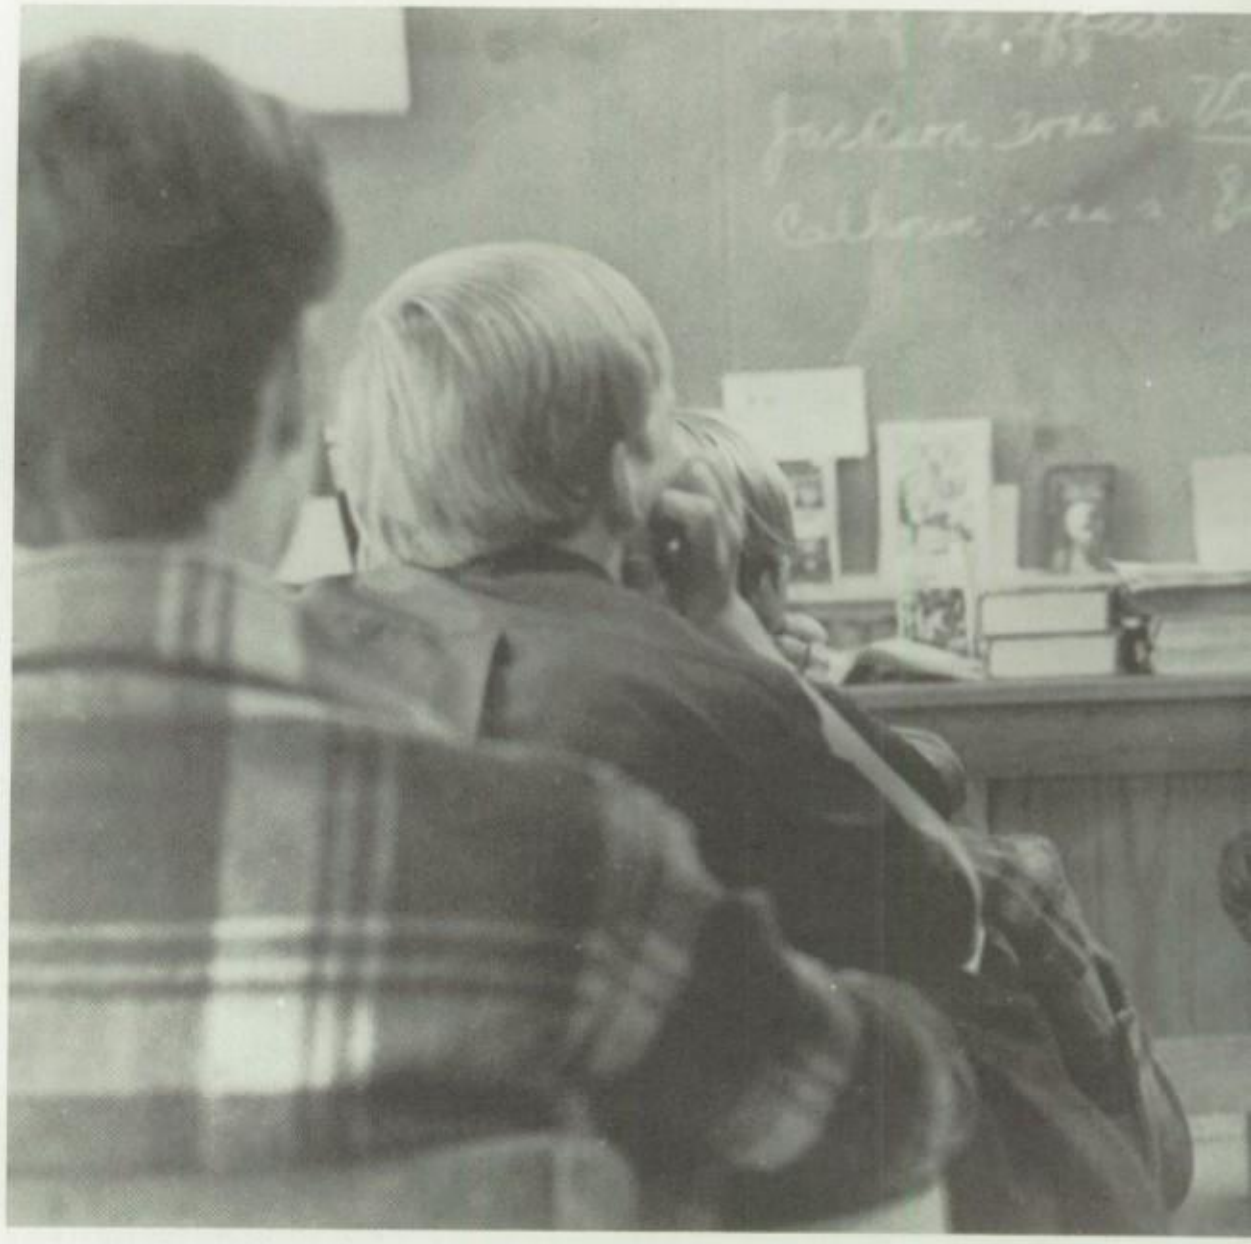




SOCIAL STUDIES



1/With a carefully phrased question, Miss Frances Smith led her world history class into a discussion.
2/Amazed at the difference between past and present, students viewed the antiques displayed at the History Club's annual fair.
3/The Film Society, sponsored by Mrs. Lore Hisky, collected toys and clothes for needy families at Christmas.
4/Mrs. Rosalind Coker, American history teacher, and sponsor of the History Club, reviewed her students on the causes of the American Revolution.



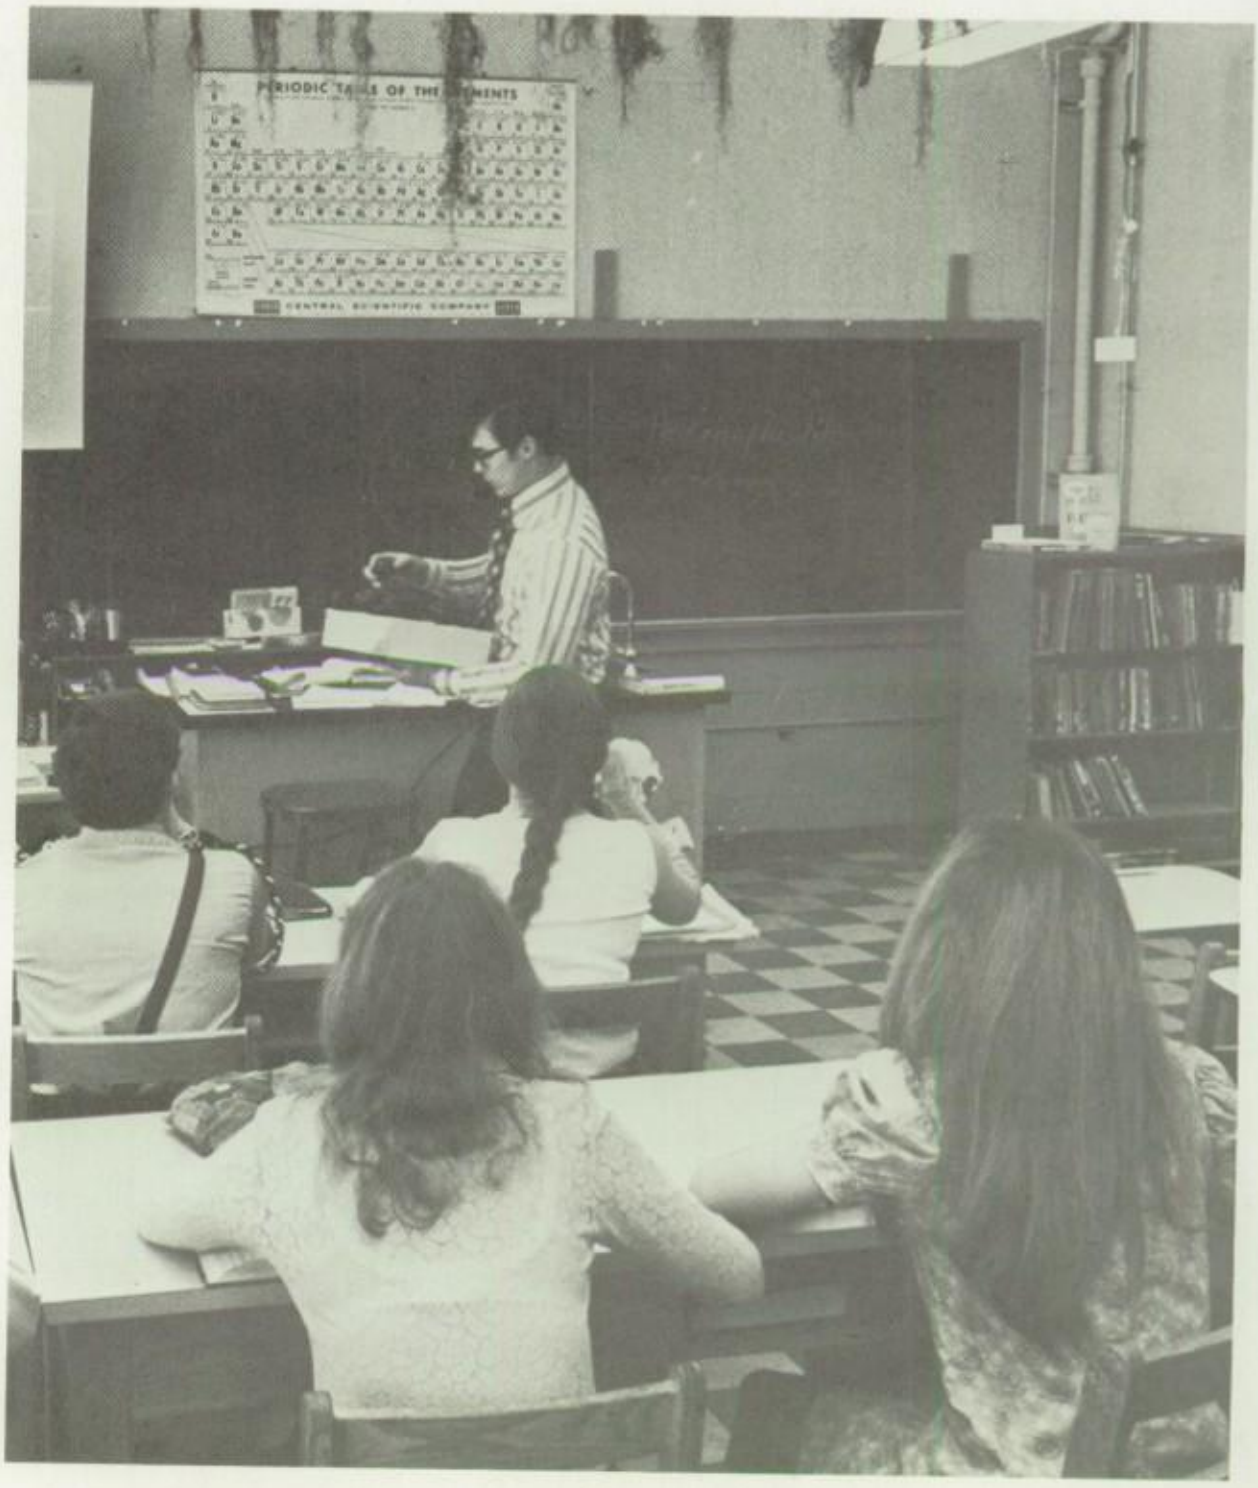
Innovations Occur In Senior Social Studies

This year American history classes at Kingsbury experimented with new and different learning techniques. One of these classes, Mrs. Lore Hisky's, was furiously working on projects concerning every phase of history. To begin the second six weeks, they undertook a project referred to as LAP, Learning Activity Packet. LAP took them on wild expeditions learning about the various types of reform movements. To accomplish top grades in this activity students did such things as listen to records, watch films, read books, and magazine articles, work up skits, or do original artwork. According to one student, "LAP broke the monotony of the year."

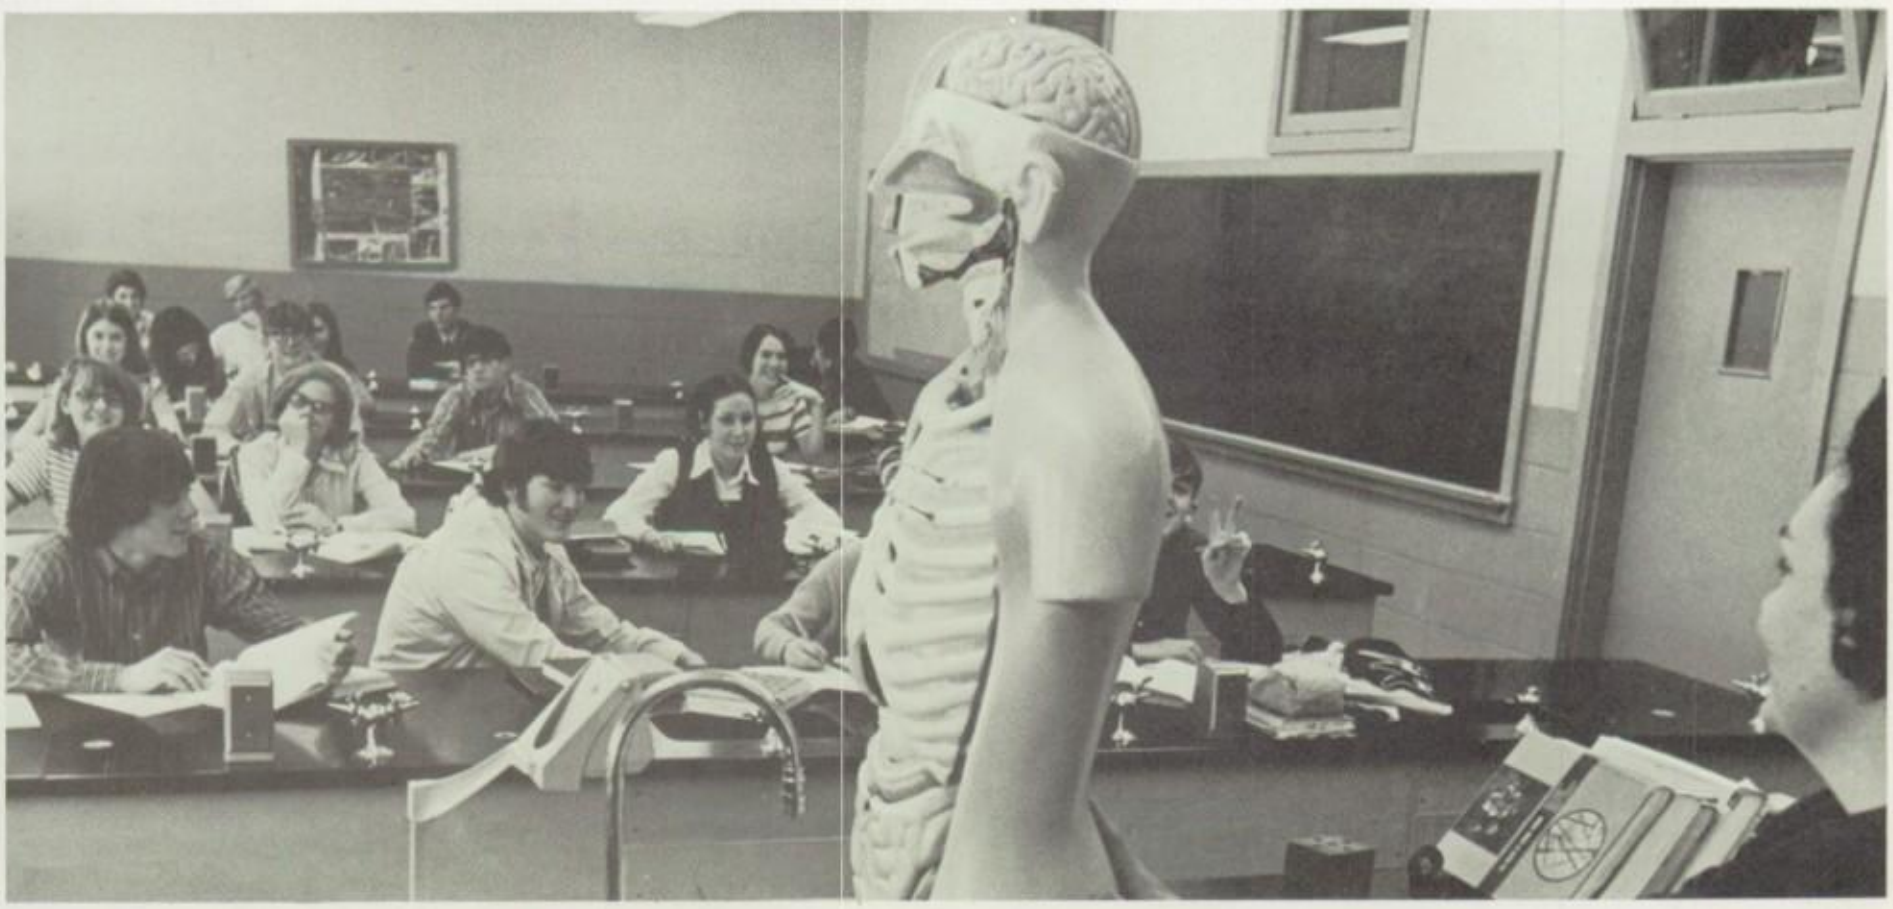
Strong Stomachs Are Necessary For Biology Students

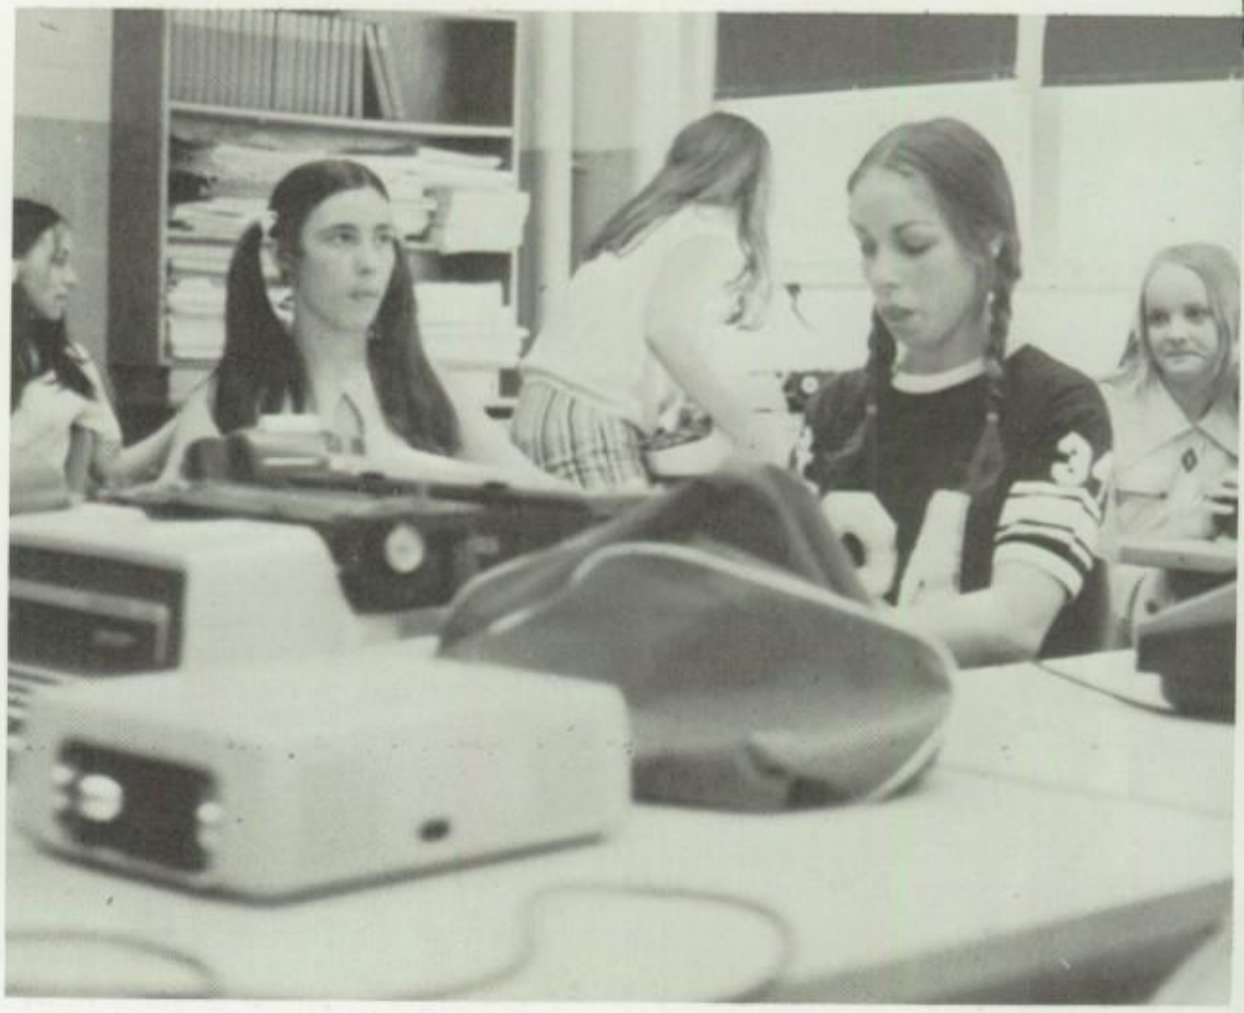
Things were really jumping in Mr. Carl Wilson's A.P. Biology class. Subject for one day was, ycch, dissection of live frogs! But the class hesitated at first to begin playing with the little beasts; they were a bit too lively. So, Mr. Wilson obliged his pupils by giving all of the frogs a thorough bath in ether. Things quieted down a bit then and the real work began. Scalpels and adrenaline-filled syringes came into play. The experiments were carried out despite the doubts, not quite steady hands, and muttered groans. The purpose of all those gory little tests was to show the effects of adrenaline on the circulatory and respiratory systems to the students (who, afterwards, weren't quite sure it was worth it)! Science must advance, you know. Highlight of the day was the reviving of the drowned frogs with lung massages and injections of adrenaline.

Senior Science



1/Mr. Crawford, a student teacher in Mr. Carl Wilson's class, got his first experience in teaching.
2/Annette Cole and Debbie Bradford appreciated a little assistance from Mrs. Worman in one of their chemistry experiments.
3/Mrs. Burnette found the human model with removable parts to be quite helpful in teaching her science class.
4/A.P. Biology students listened attentively to Liz Terrell's question.

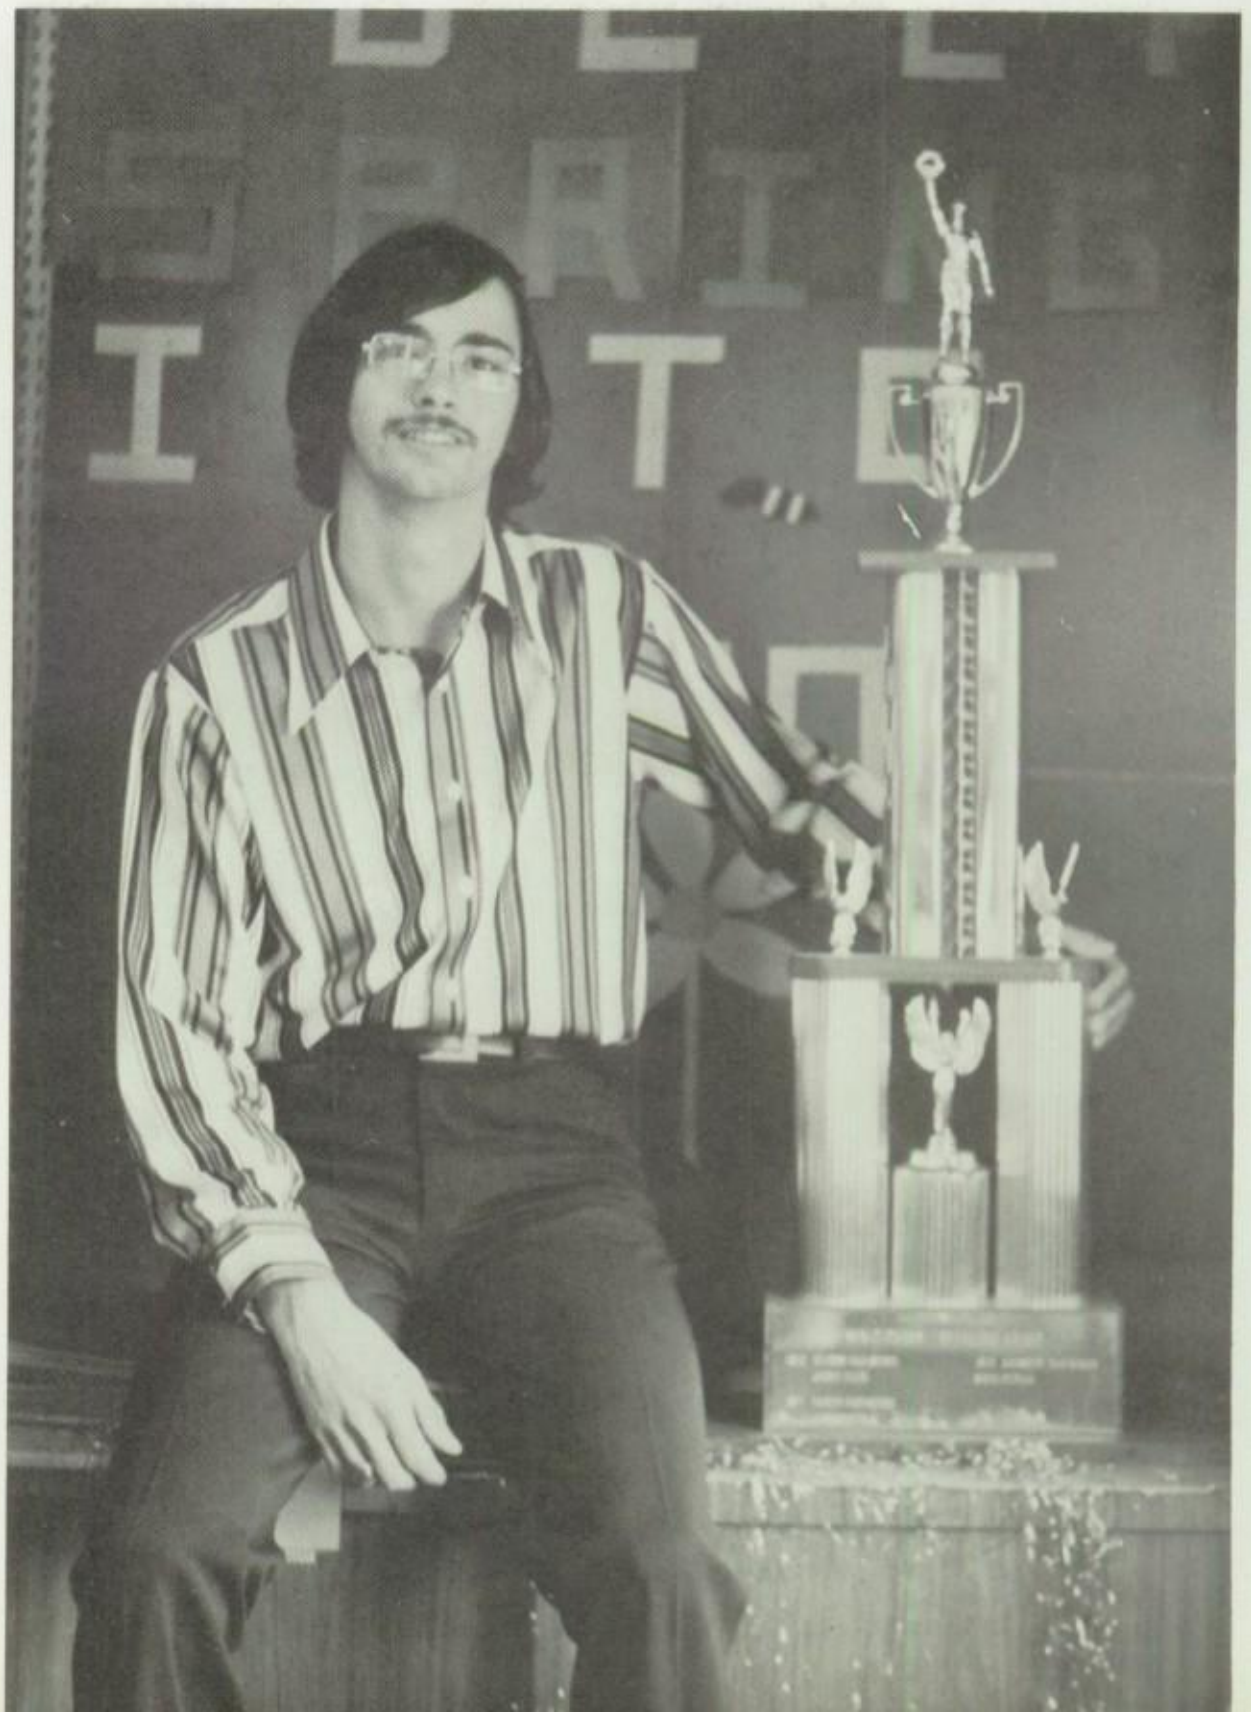




COOP

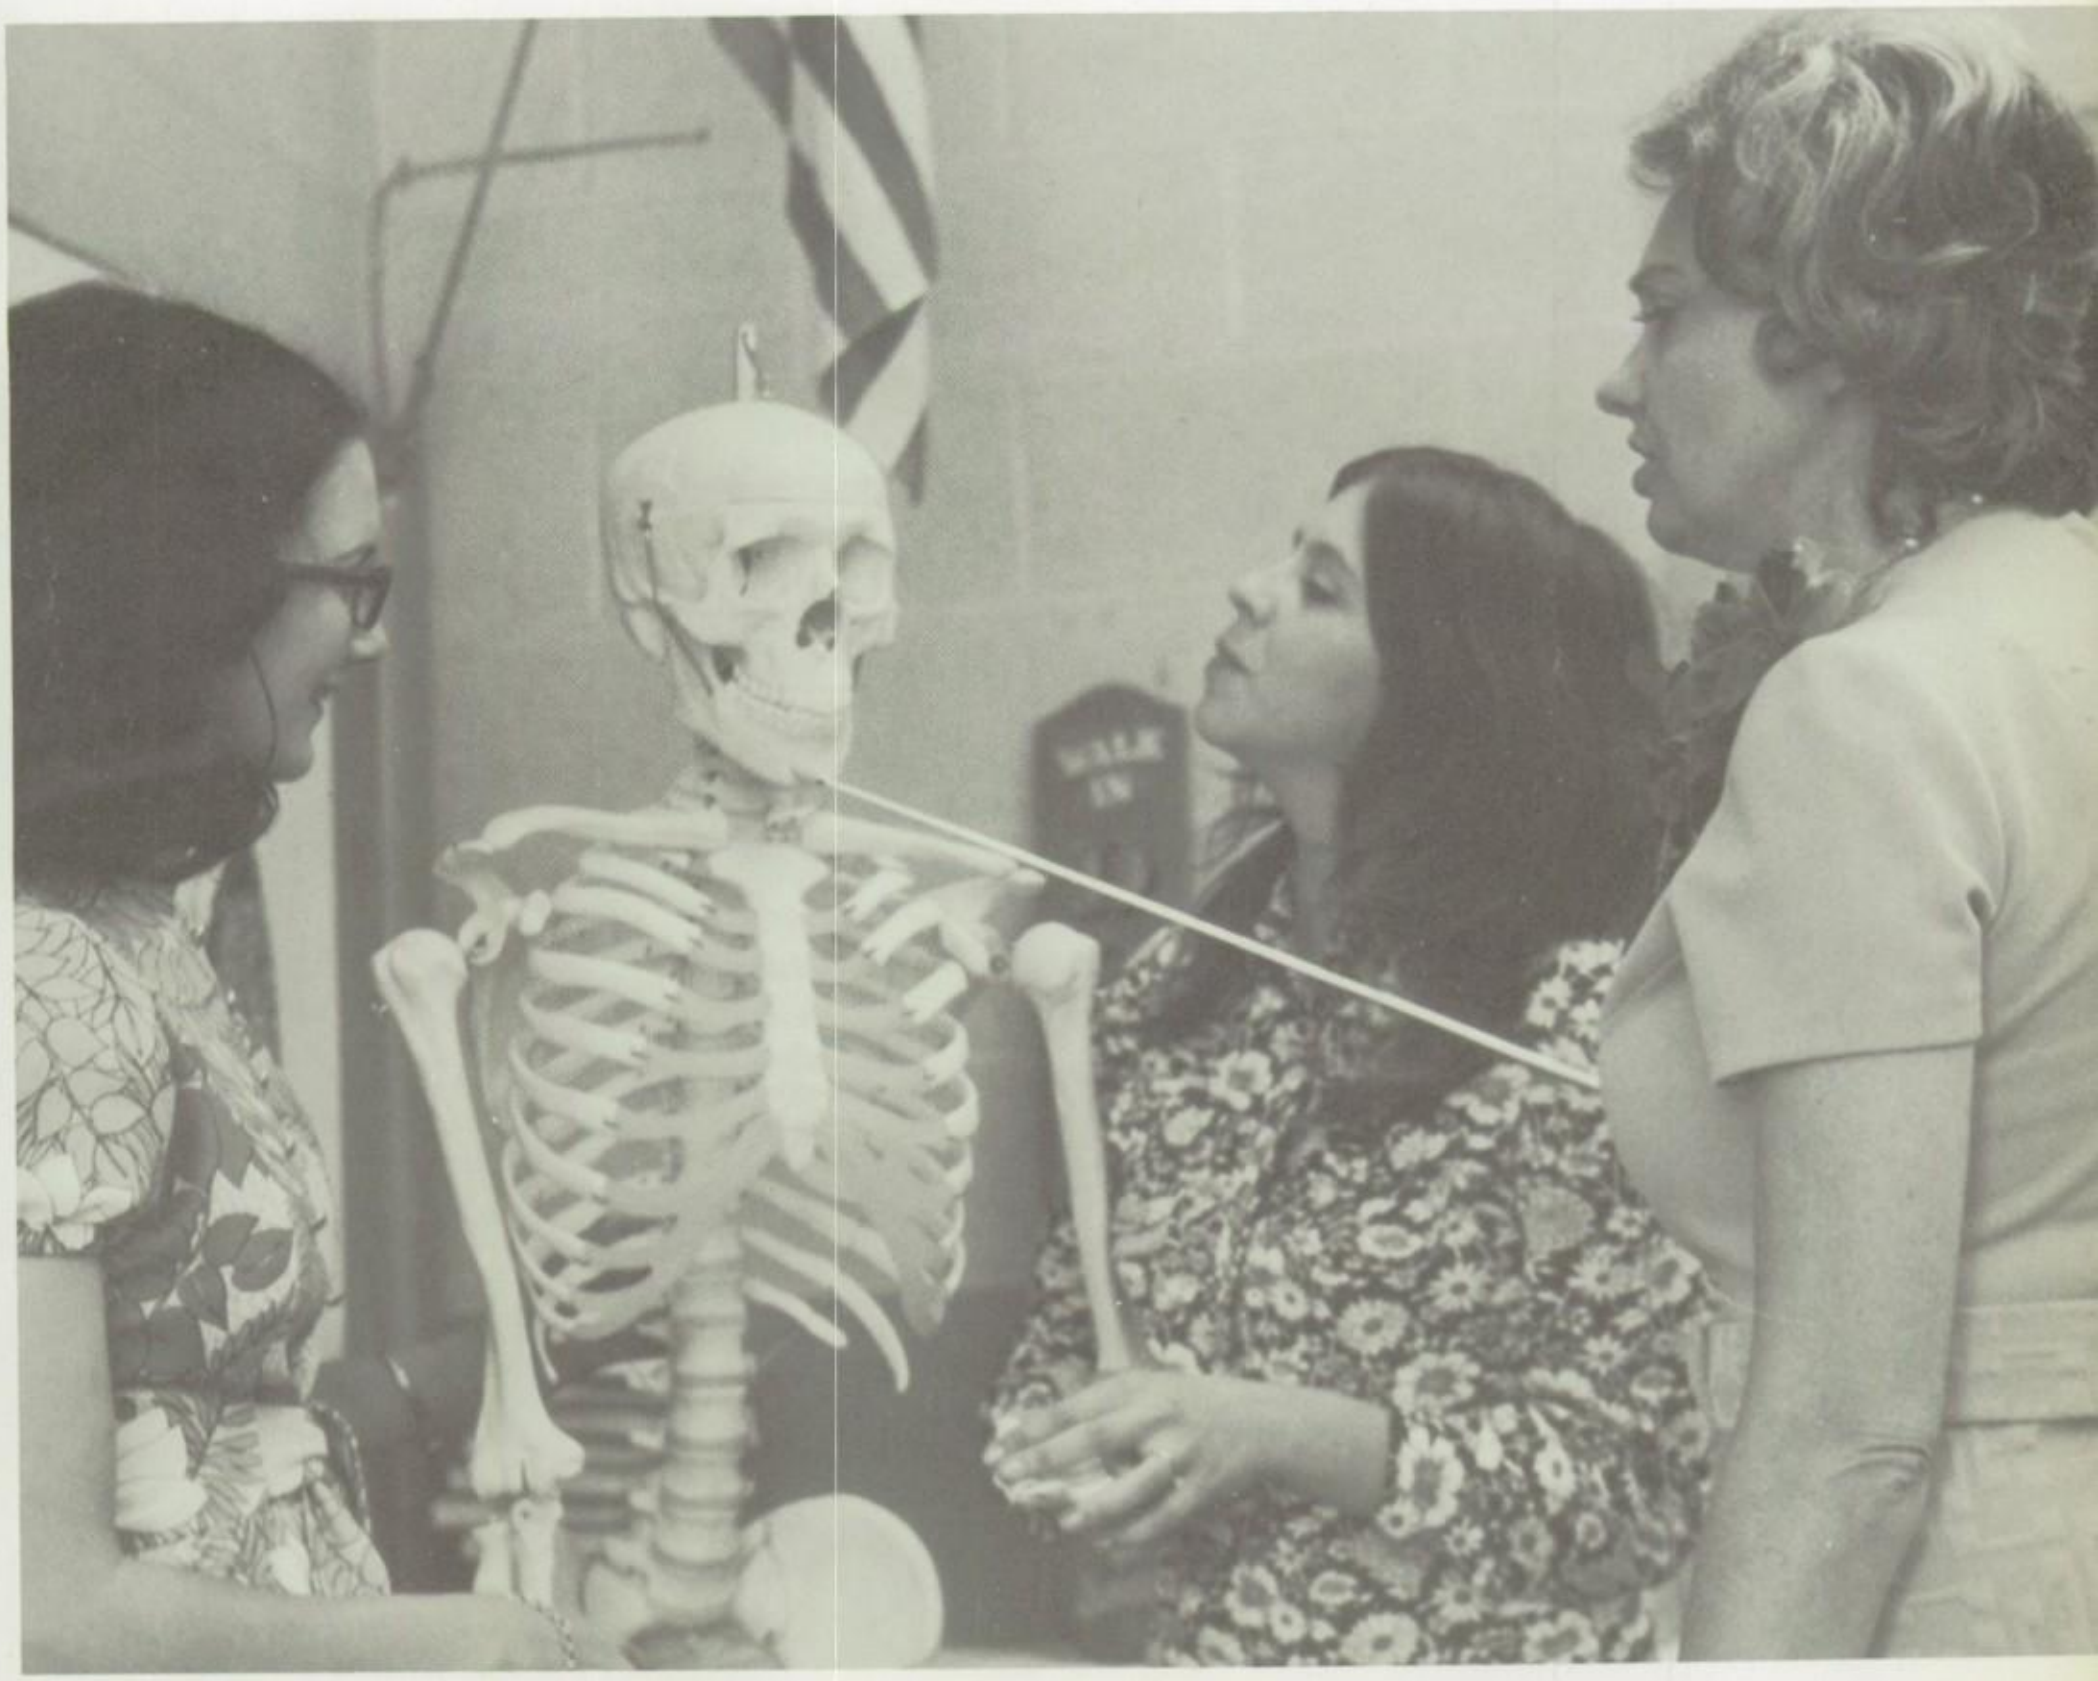
2
1 3 4

1/Cathy Gray concentrated on the correct construction of a business letter in Mrs. Jane Broeker's COE class.
2/In Mrs. Martha Bank's VOE class students applied their newly acquired skills.
3/Steve Pittman, a DE student, posed with his Ben C. Park Retailing Award.
4/Mrs. Betty Obenchain instructed her students, Donna McCulley and Connie Bayliss, in Health Cooperative Training.



DE Students Capture Honors At DECA Conferences

Fifteen people from Kingsbury's Distributive Education classes taught by Mrs. Debbie Cooper captured first place honors in the district contest. These lucky people were eligible to go on to the State DECA Conference held in Nashville for three days. In the state conference Michelle Granoski gained Secretary of State, second place for her Area Distribution Manual, and third place in Student-of-the-Year. Also, Cecil Rogers was appointed to the Courtesy Corp and won third place as chairman of creative marketing and Angela Davis won second place in the state on Kingsbury's D.E. Chapter-of-the-Year. Michelle and Cecil journeyed to Los Angeles for the National DECA Conference — Michelle as a voting delegate and Cecil as a member of the Courtesy Corp.



BUSINESS

2

1/Striving to raise her words and lower her errors, Donna Hodges concentrated on a five-minute writing in first year typing.
2/Students in Mrs. Gladys Childress's typing class worked quickly to finish their timed writing.

Students Are Taught Valuable Skills For Future Application In Business World

Office Practice was a course offered to Seniors to help increase knowledge of office machines and build competence in their use. Every student learned to operate each type of machine available. A few of these included the transcriber being used by Diane Rogers, the duplicator machine operated by Vickie Hall, and the electric typewriter used by Debbie Watts.

ROTC

1/Lt. Col. Le Trent, Cd. Commander Mathenia and Cd. Cpt. Caswell marched forward to inspect Alpha Company.

2/1st Lt. Summer and Cd. Corporal Smith were at ease knowing the inspector had passed.

3/M-T 2's and M-T 3's were inspected before first year cadets.

4/Bad weather caused Master Sgt. Levitt to hold inspection inside the gym.

Kingsbury Rifle Team Wins Seven Contests

The Kingsbury ROTC Rifle Team demonstrated outstanding marksmanship by winning seven consecutive contests. The team, instructed by Msgt. B. A. Hatley and commanded by P. W. Tucker, competed for first place in the third brigade. Members of the team were Sam Rhodes, top shooter of the team, Randy Mathenia, Jerry Nutt, and Danny Nations.

SENIOR ART

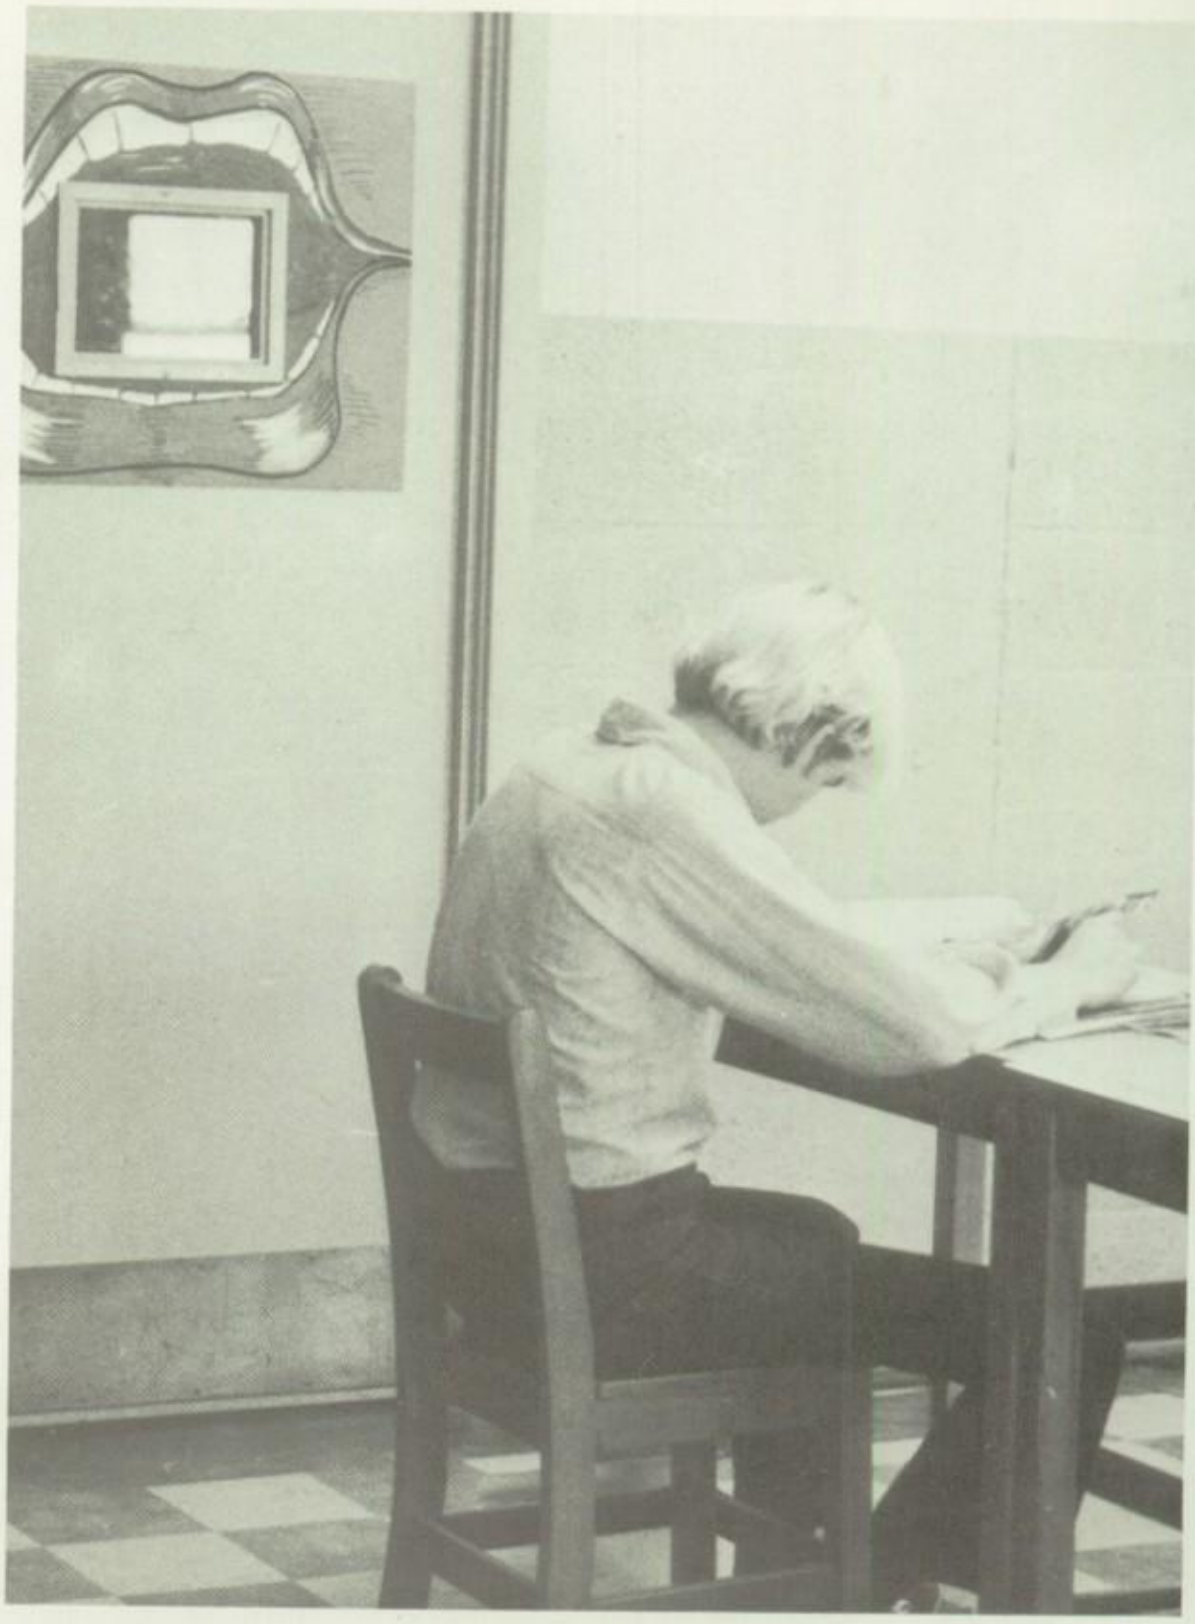
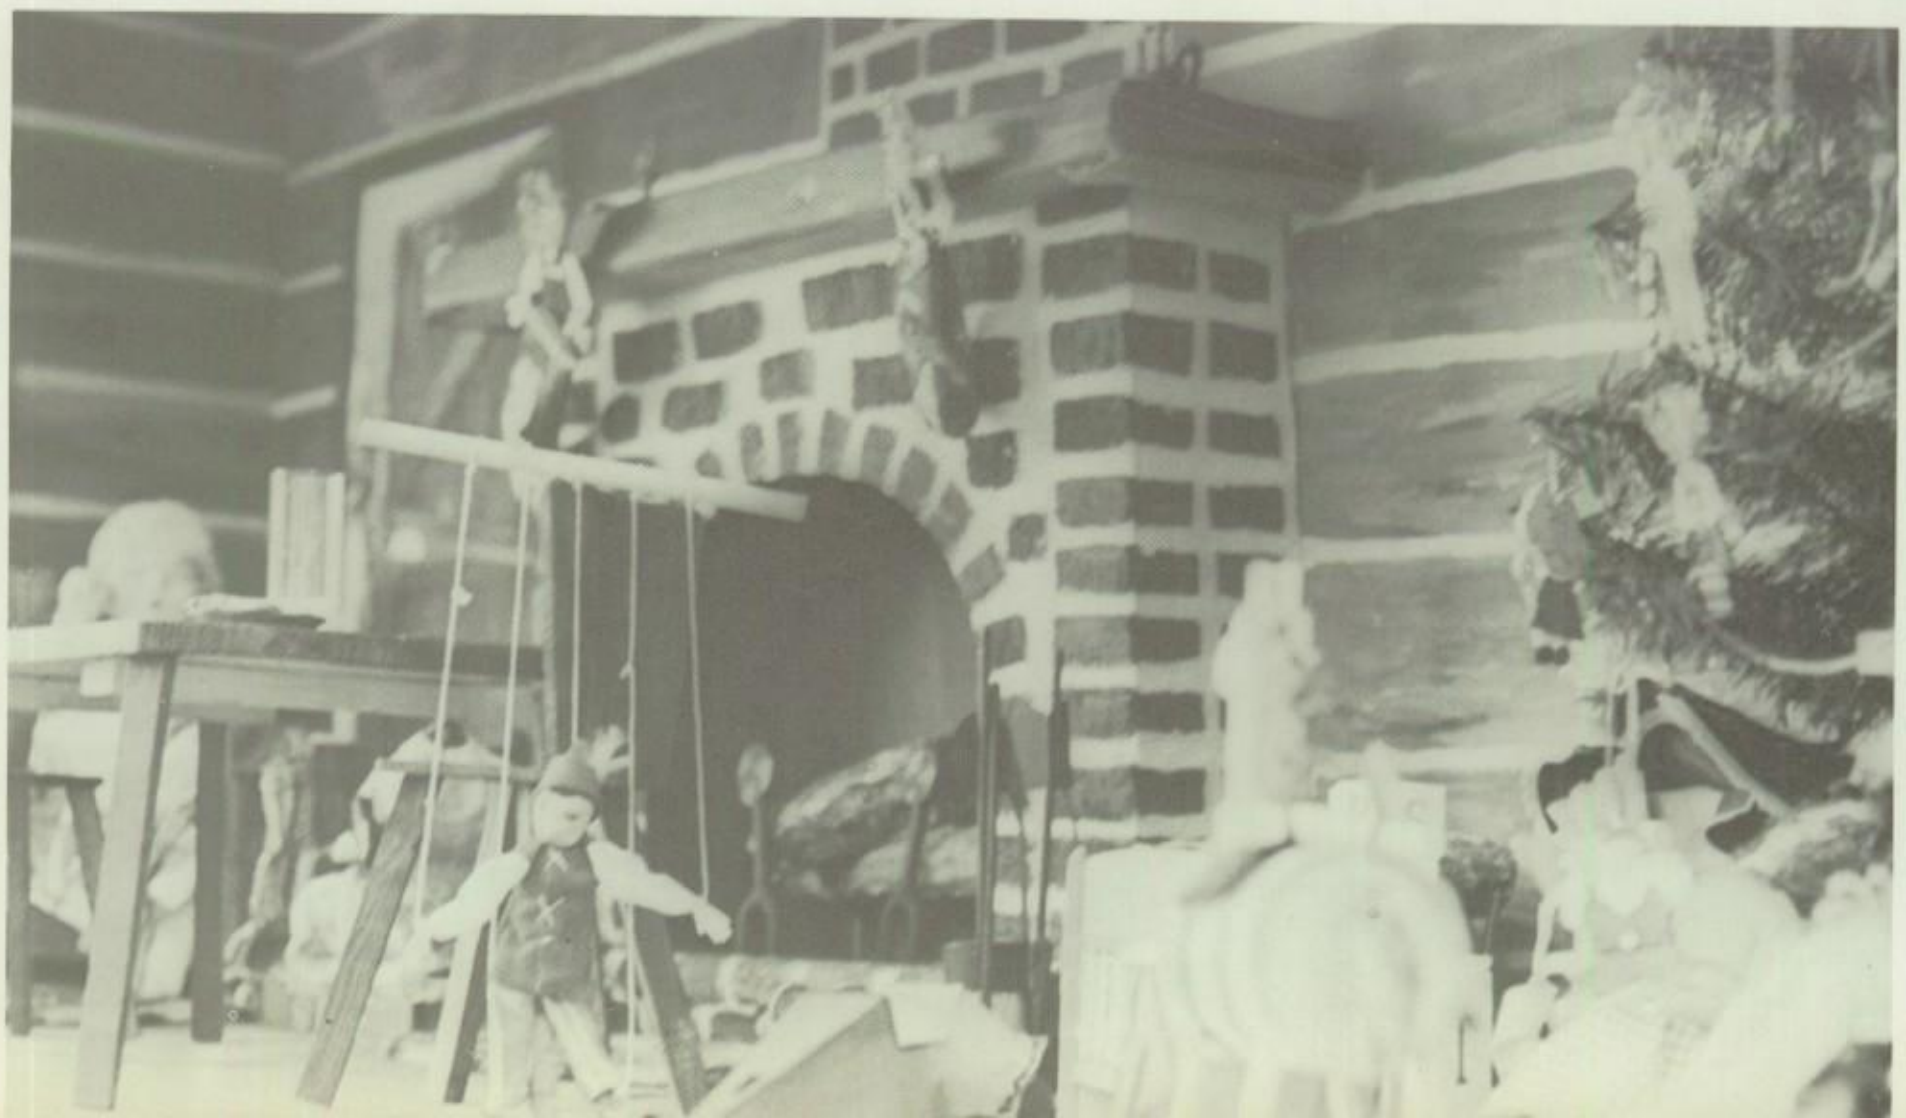
2

1/In the cheerful atmosphere of Miss Linda Gibson's art room David Bondurant looked up picture ideas for his next project.

2/Santa's workshop was the theme of the senior art classes' Christmas project.

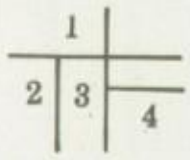




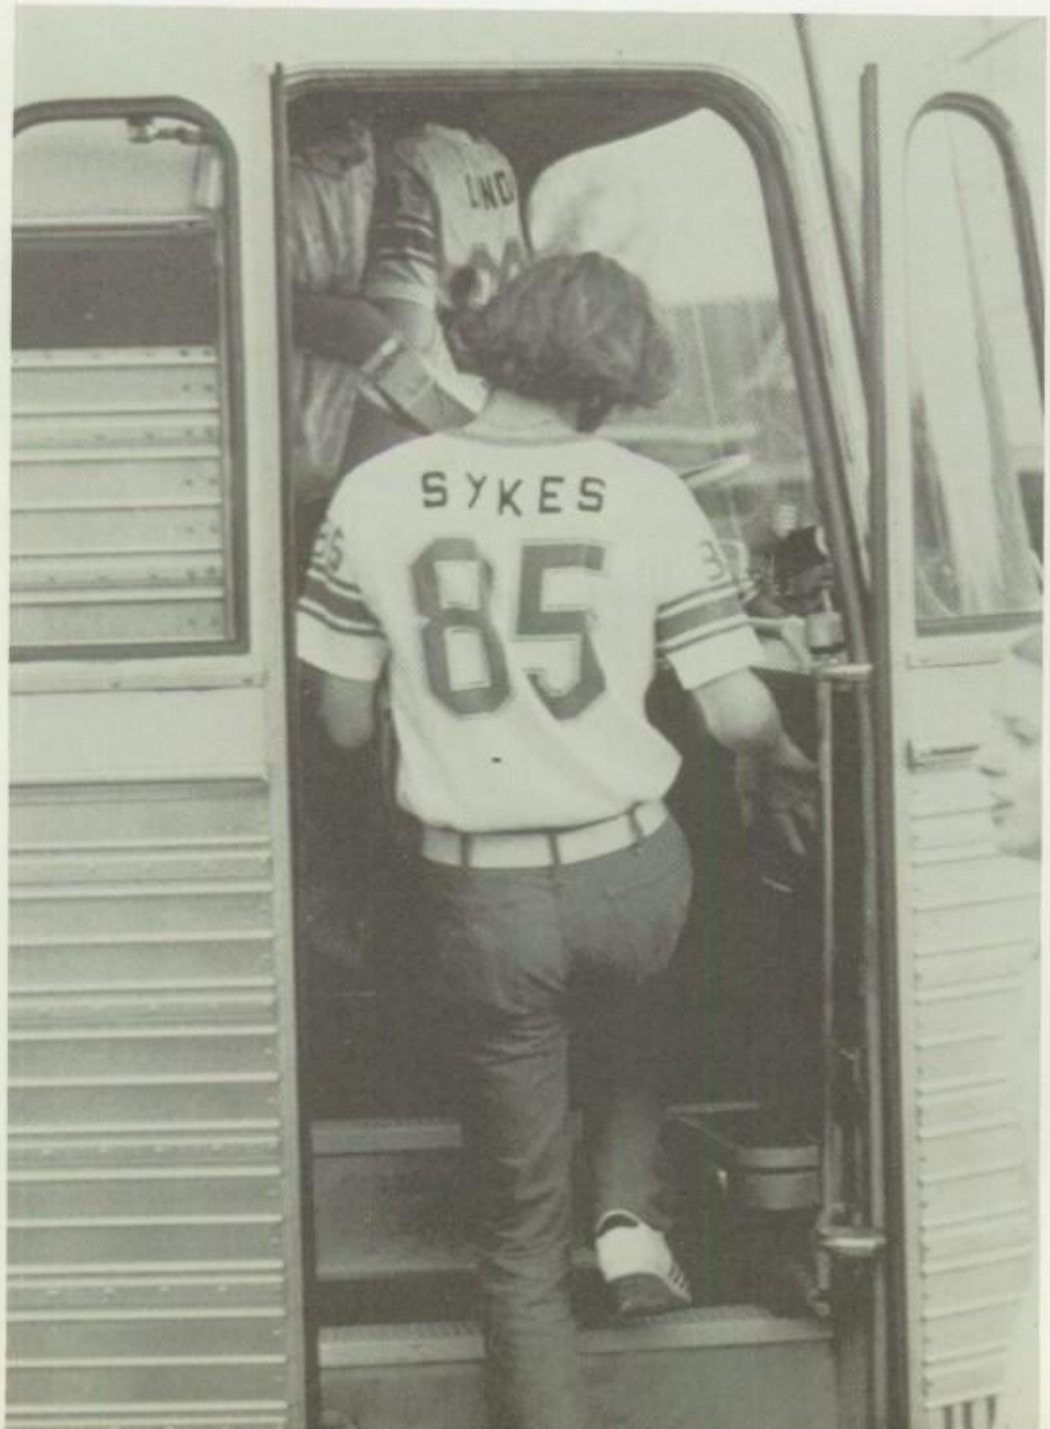
Barnyard Hoe-Down Of Talent Highlights '72 Art Show

Every spring for the past four years Kingsbury's Senior Art Club has presented an exhibit of the art students' best work in a very colorful, original Art Fair. This year Miss Linda Gibson's art room was decorated for the exhibit using the theme of an old country barnyard. The doors opening into her room were made into barn doors with two children playing in a hayloft over them. Everything was made by the students including the invitations sent out to all the faculty. One of the main features of the show was the life-size people made out of paper maché by Miss Gibson and her second period art class of third and fourth year students. The supply room was made into a general store in which the students sold small vases of flowers, macramé and other things they had made. The Art Fair was held for two days, one for senior high and one for junior high. The money made from the show went into the Art Club fund to help buy supplies for next year's art classes.

SENIOR MUSIC



1/While getting ready for a contest, the stage band practiced very diligently.
2/Charles Sykes boarded the bus on the way to Clearwater, Florida.
3/Singing in the new portable classroom with Mr. Bousson was found to be fun by Terry Knight and Brenda Gray.
4/Mr. Bousson directed one of his senior vocal classes backstage in his cramped facilities.



Senior Band Tours Florida

The highlight of the Senior High Band trip to Clearwater, Florida, was the trip to Walt Disney World. As I wandered through the Magic Kingdom, I encountered various cartoon characters walking the streets. Around one corner I met Captain Hook and Pepi Lapeu; around another I saw a barber shop quartet with a piano on wheels. There was a haunted mansion on the hill with its own witches and ghosts that were unbelievable. Then there was "It's a Small World" depicting how life is basically the same all over the world. That day went by faster than any other because, thanks to a man called Walt Disney, life can still be fun.

HOME ECONOMICS

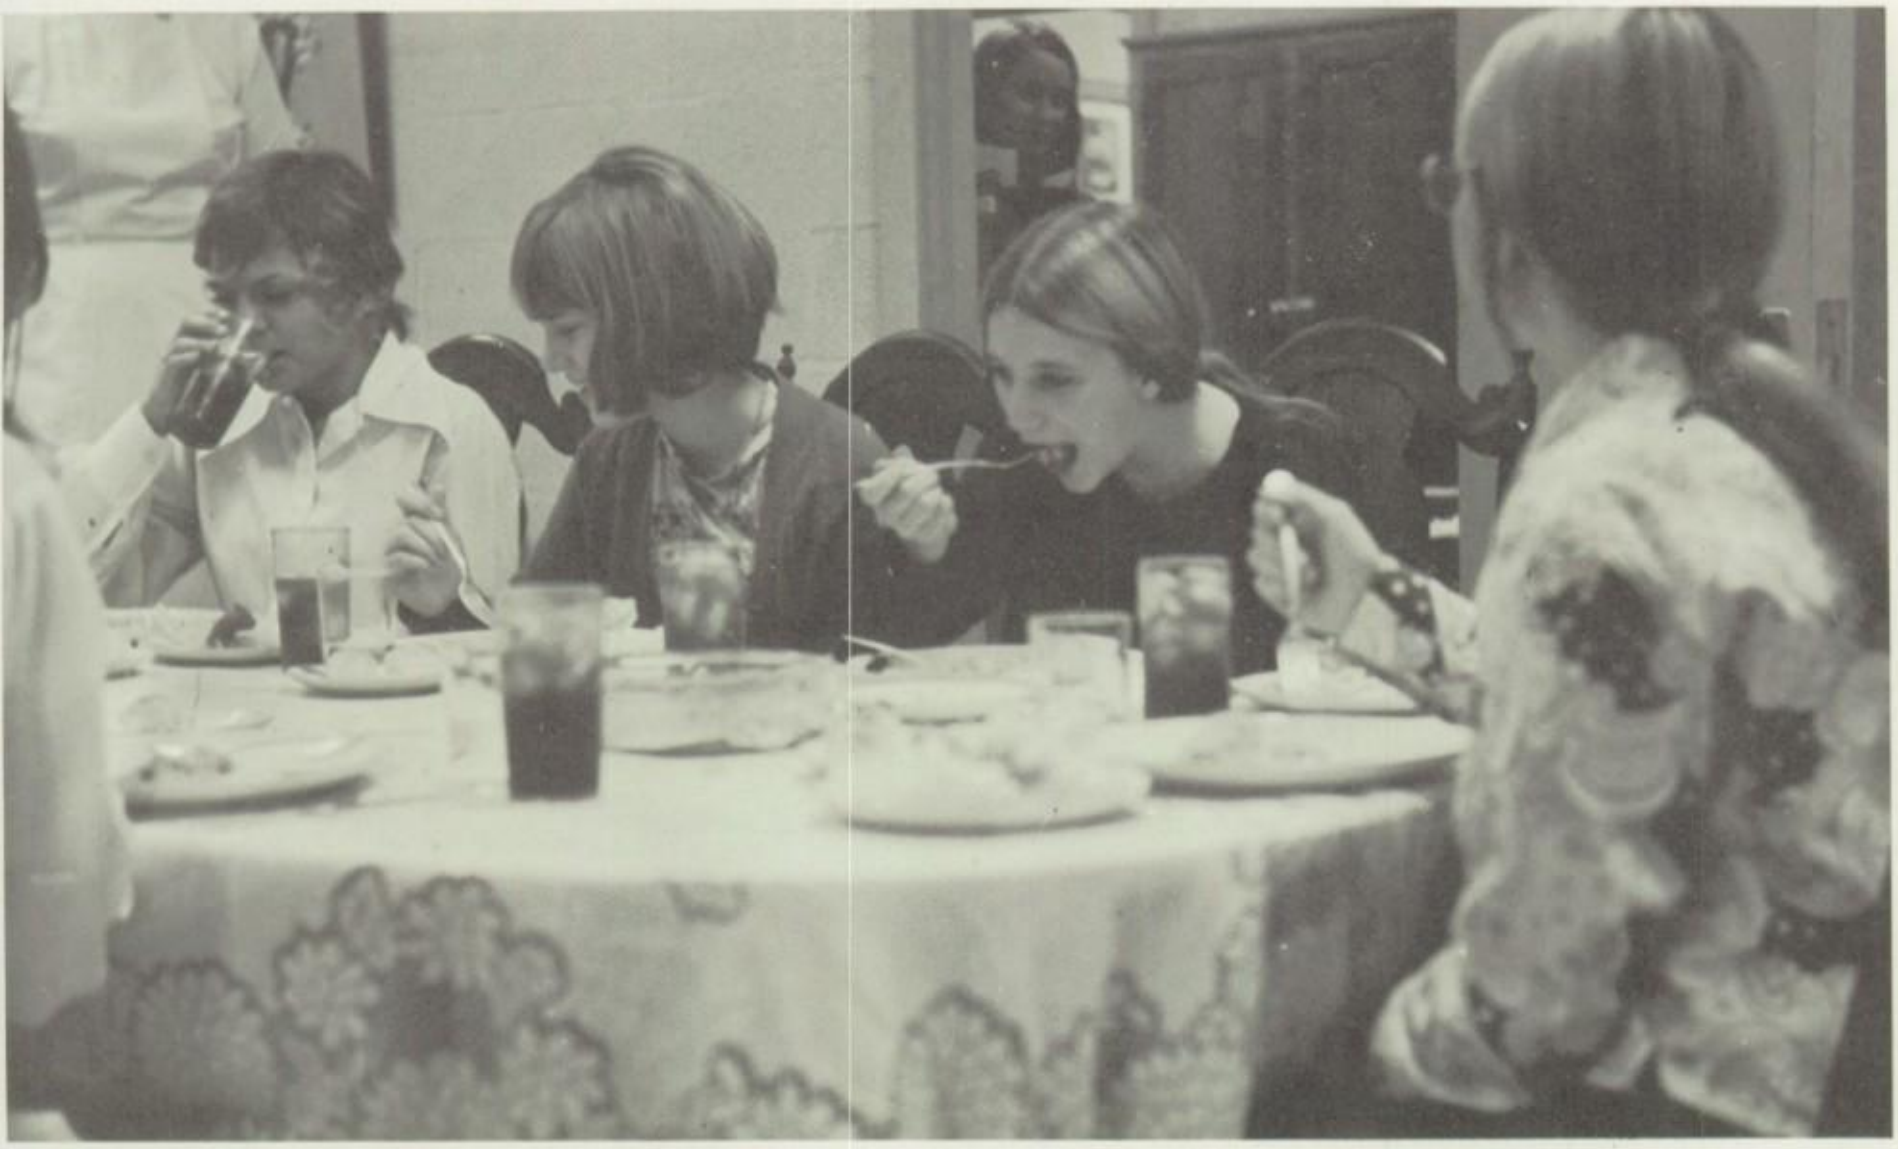
1/Linda Stroud prepared a delicious treat while Mrs. Elliot looked on.
2/Vickie Freeman helped Carrie Logan by hemming the lining of her dress.
3/Tenth-grade home ec students enjoyed the luncheon that had been prepared for them by classmates.

Tots Teach Willing Students

Occupational Child Development, a home economics course for students who like working with children, provided a welcome break from the regular class schedule. Mrs. Bettye Gail Peters helped her students to care for and entertain children with the aid of an easel and paints, table games, a sand box, and even a couple of guinea pigs. After working hard to prepare the room so that it would be fun and imaginative for the youngsters, one small boy walked in, took a discouraged look around, and simply replied, "But there's nothin' to do."

Pam Roach, a student in Mrs. Peter's class, told about the time when they were singing "Wheels on the Bus." In the song the wheels are replaced with something else on the bus. As they were singing, one little boy said something about the bathroom, but when he reached the door the little boy looked around and remarked innocently, "No, not me, the bus driver!"



SHOP

1 | 2 3

1/In metal shop Mr. Manley helped Ricky Yarbro on his six weeks' project.
2/David Collins and Dale Broshers showed their creative ability in woodshop.
3/Mike Dunavant gave a helping hand to Charles Coor in Coach Lovelace's woodwork class.

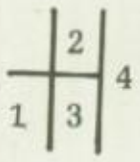
PHYSICAL EDUCATION



1/Kellie Kulew practiced the split vault in Mrs. Marian Forrest's seventh grade gym class.

2/Instructors in the field of physical education were Mrs. Betty Foust, Mrs. Marian Forrest, and Miss Shirley McCray.

3/Mrs. Foust demonstrated to her class the proper way to serve in badminton before the class actually started play ing.

1/Vicki Walker looked for a good book on one of her favorite subjects.
2/Cathy Bodi, a junior high library assistant, helped students find books in the card catalogue.
3/"Maybe I'll get it this time" said Vickie Raider as she tried to thread the machine needle.
4/During her free period Mrs. Knous put her expert knowledge of sewing to use.

Determination Is The Way To Success In Home Economics

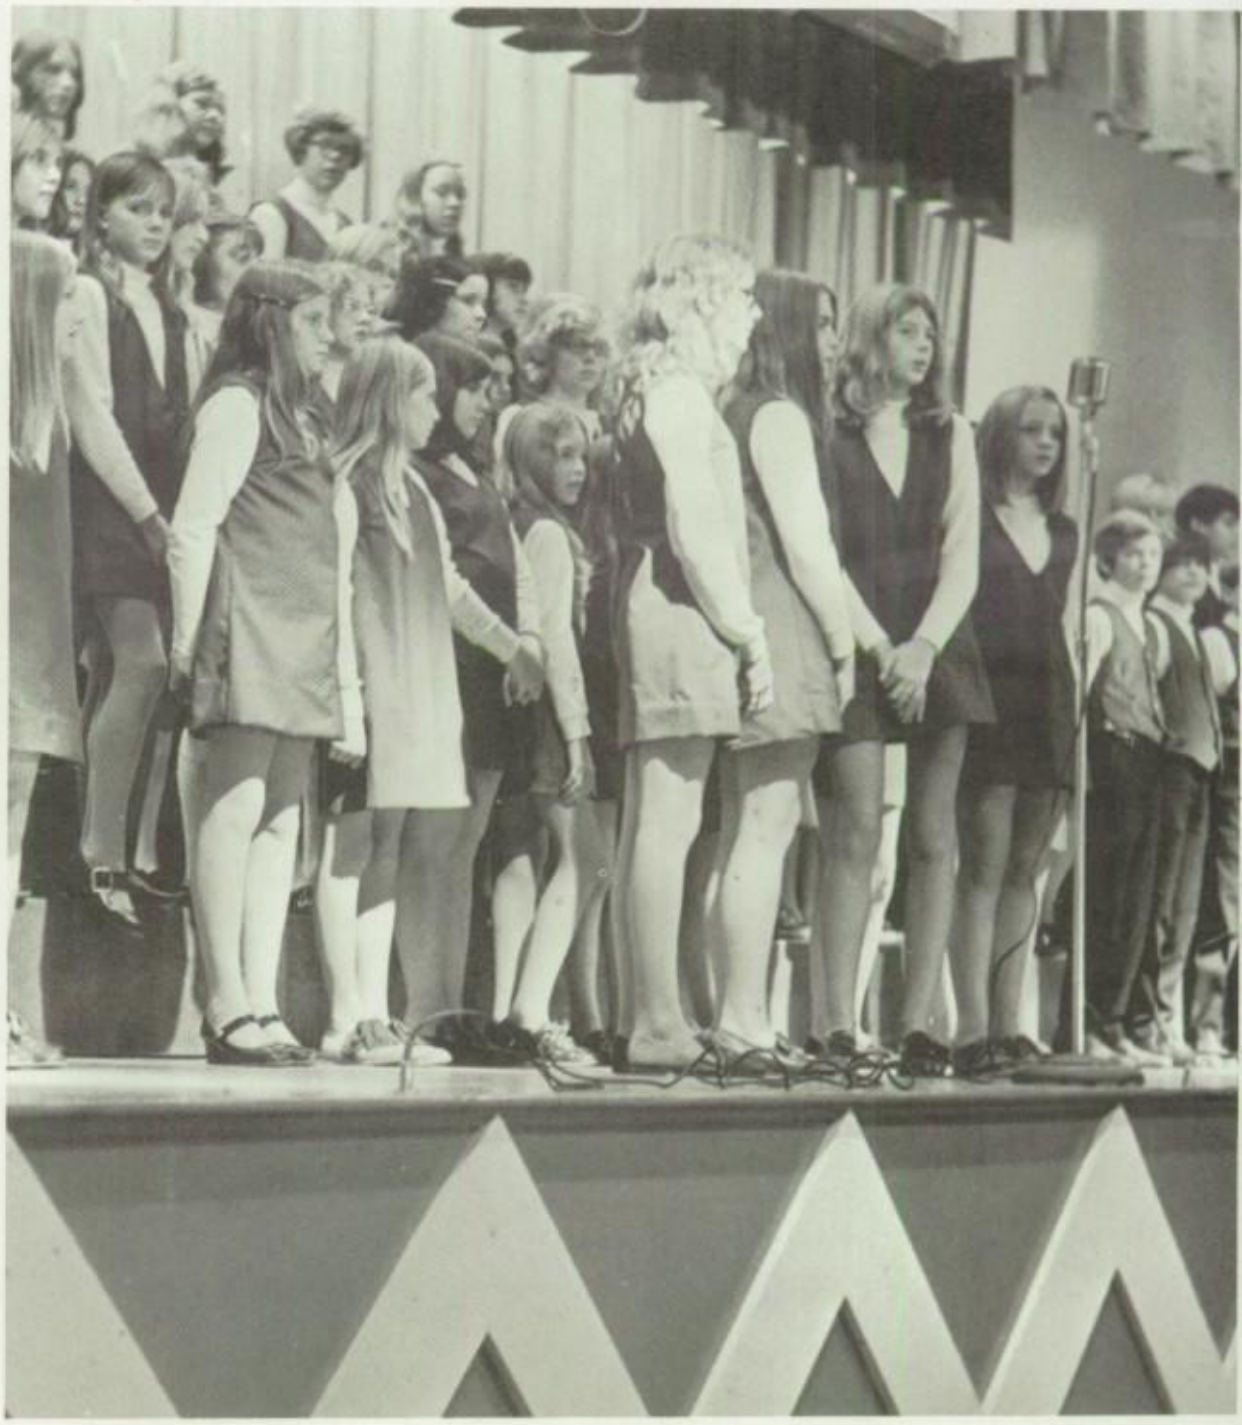
Home economics prepares one for future homemaking. For some, homemaking comes naturally, but for others, well, it's just "unnatural." In the first picture, Juanita Payne, an eighth grader, appreciated a little assistance from Mrs. Murphy. As you can see, she could use a little more practice in the art of sewing, but only time will tell. In the next picture, Sherry Lee showed improvement with an additional year's experience. Whether one has the talent for sewing or not, it takes a lot of determination to succeed.

Junior High Singers Present Programs For County Schools

Beginning the Junior High Singers' holiday season was an exciting, all-day trip to Barret's Chapel and Egypt Central Grade Schools. The 67-voice choir with their teacher and director, Mrs. Berta Sue Wilhelm, presented Christmas programs to these North Shelby County Schools.

The program got off on a rather familiar note with several traditional Christmas carols being sung by the group. In the midst of the performance came a solo by Sarah Pollard followed by a duet sung by Ricky Moore and Bobby Windham. For the closing there was sung by the entire chorus a number titled "Potpourri." This number was a medley based on the original lyrics of the students put to the music of various popular songs. Creative ideas, planning, and management made the program an overwhelming success.

JUNIOR MUSIC, ART

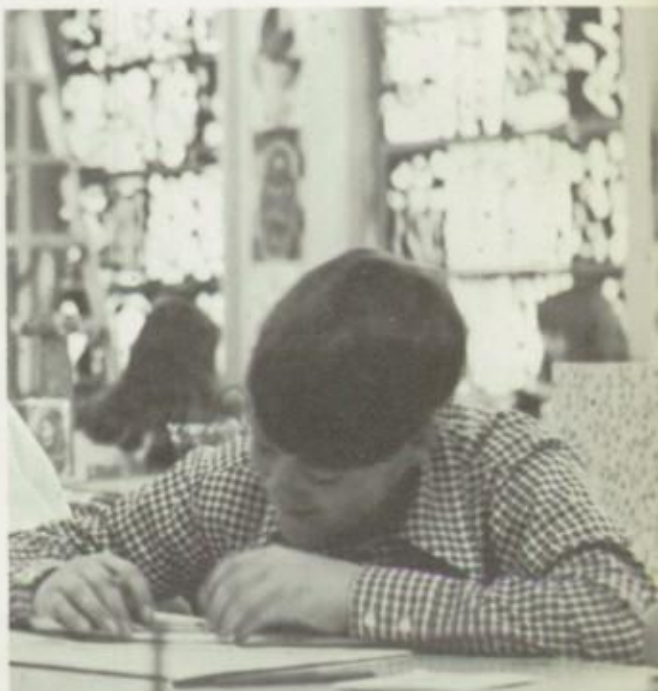


1/The Seventh Grade Singers performed at Kingsbury Elementary during the fall under the direction of Mrs. Nelda Pierce.

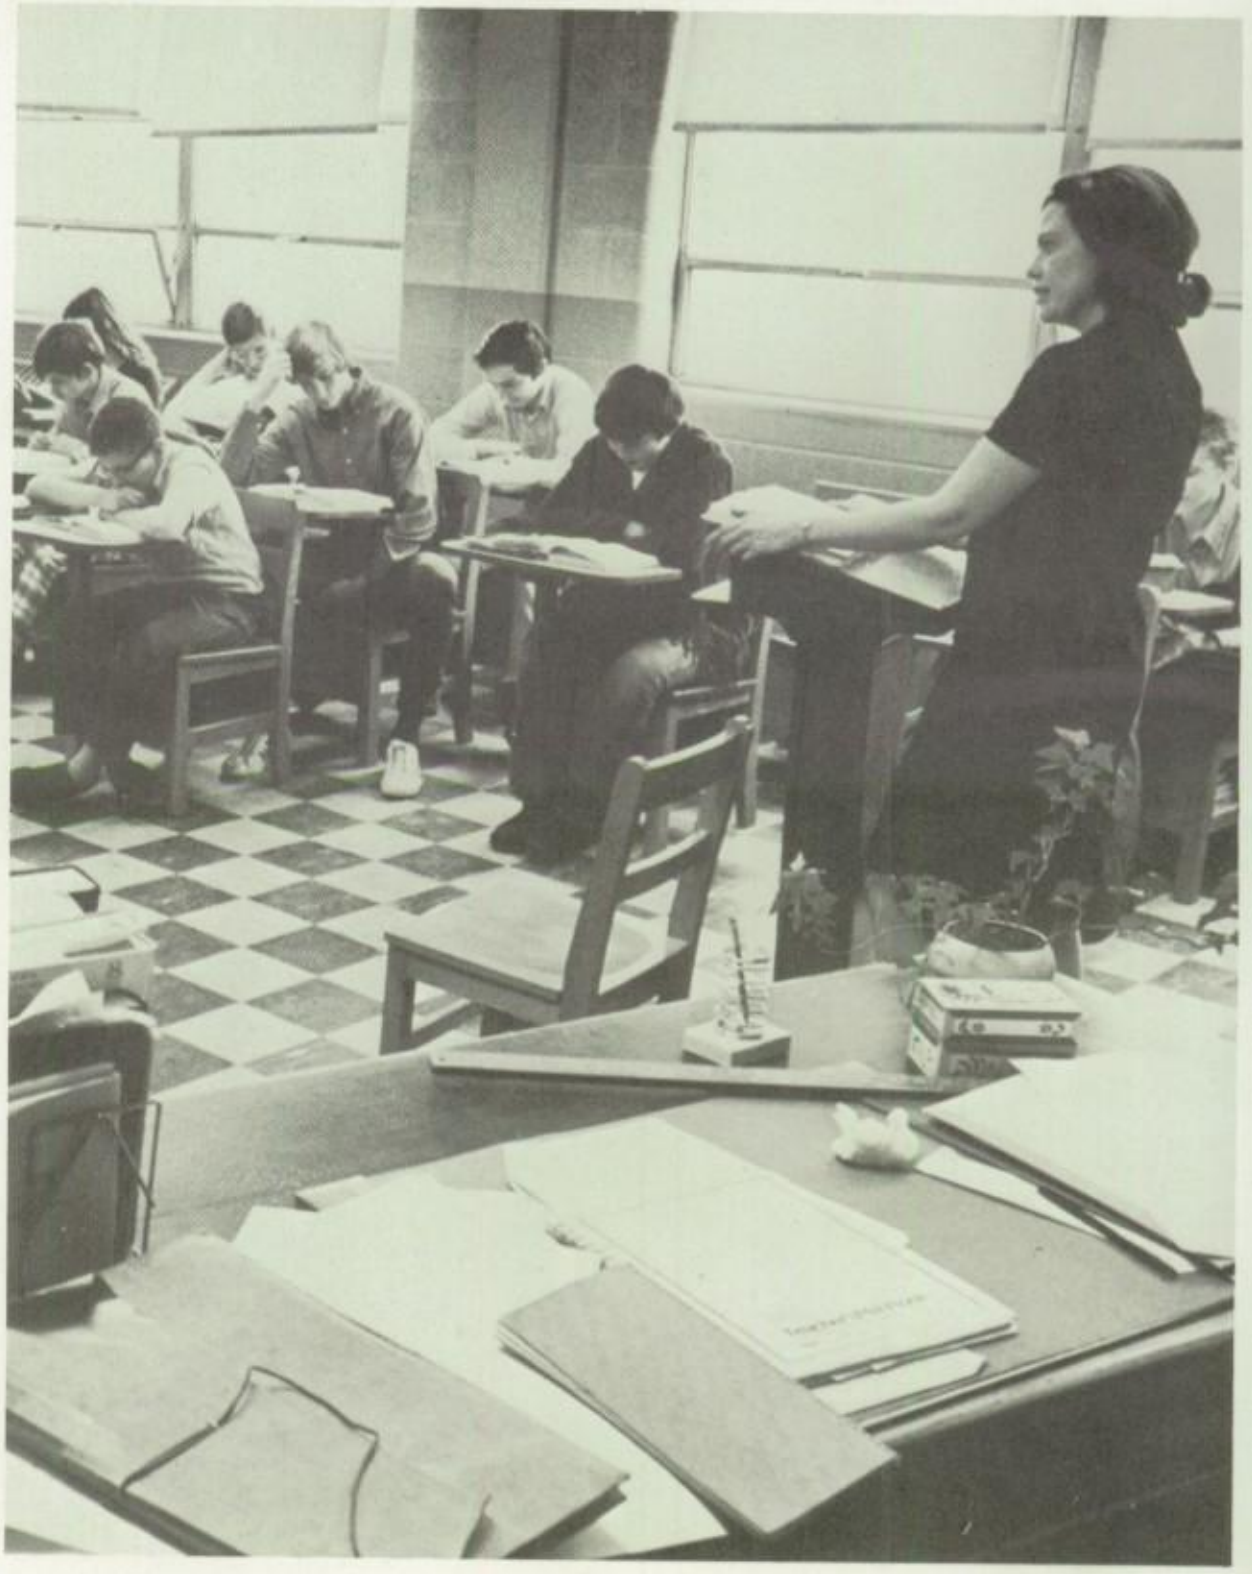
2/Mrs. Vera Wages taught against a backdrop of color stained glass windows which her art students created.

3/Trying hard to learn just exactly how to do it, Robin Conn watched Don Mulkey and Tim Carter as they worked.

4/Concentration helped in perfecting Tommy Rodger's pencil drawing.



JUNIOR ENGLISH, SOCIAL STUDIES



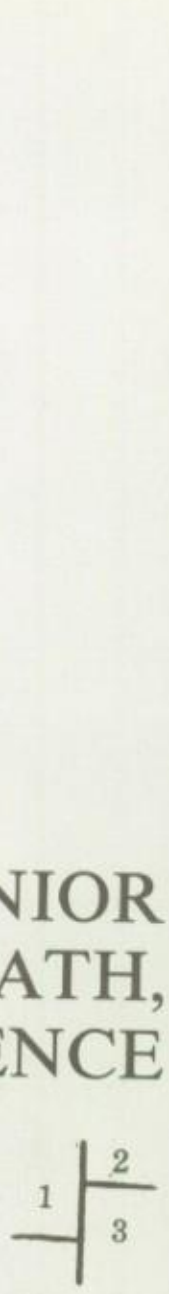
1 | 2
3 | 4

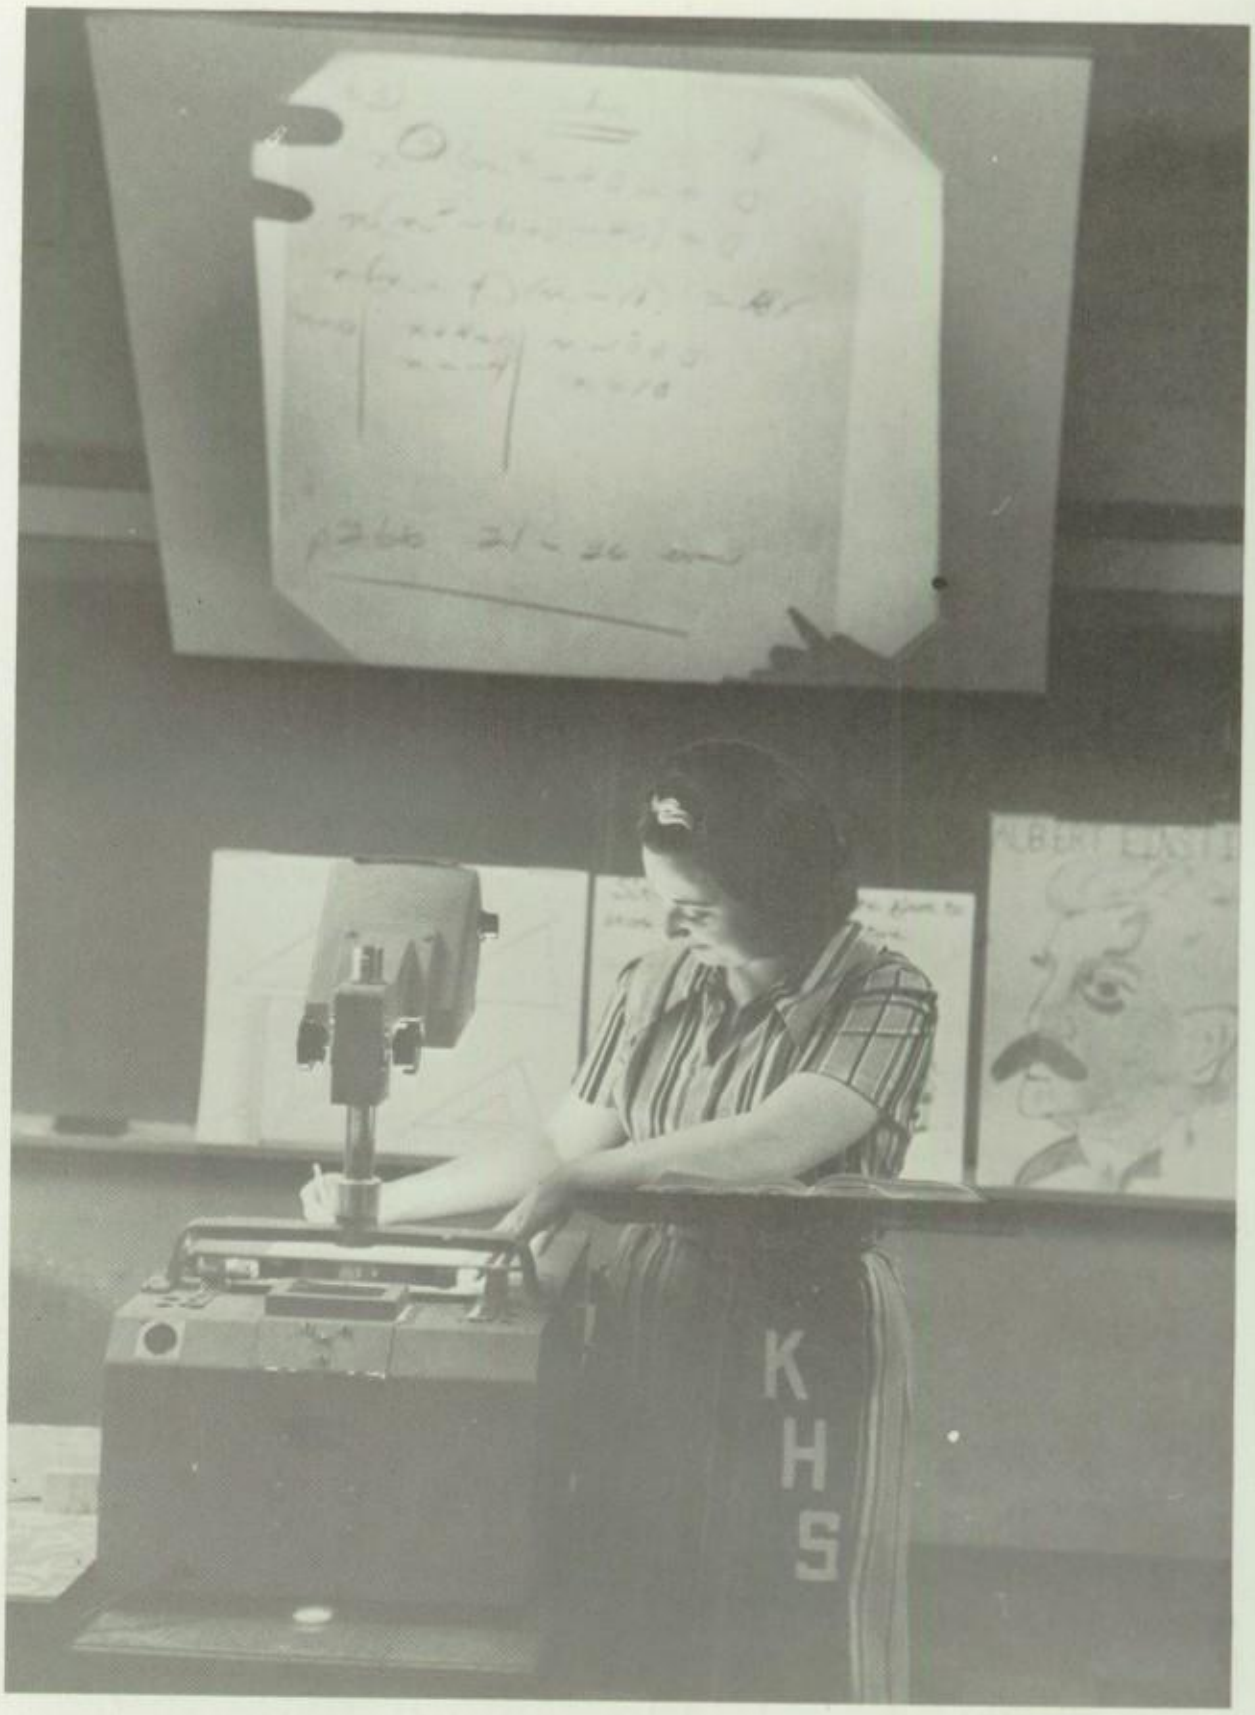
1/Participation, Deborah Carnell found, was a good way to learn and stay on the better side of Mrs. Cobb.
2/In a skit put on in Mrs. Dorothy Cohn's class, Odysseus, Teresa Green, was about to stab Janet Thieme, who portrayed Sirce.
3/Mrs. Crabb carefully explained how to avoid grammatical errors in sentence structure.
4/Mr. Howell helped a student find the answer to his class work.

Nunley Found Guilty; Sentenced To One Day After School

"We the people of the first period history class agree to: form a more perfect class, learn about government, establish justice, learn to make decisions . . . " These lines were taken from the constitution of Mrs. Key's eighth grade American history class who ran their class in the fashion of a democratic republic. They elected a president and many of the other main officials needed to make a democracy. They made their laws, enforced them, and tried violators in their own court with students acting as the judge and jury. A court was set up to decide the case of Russell Nunley who was caught defacing public property, or in other words, writing on his desk. As the result of this trial which lasted two class periods, Russell was sentenced to one afternoon after school washing every one of the desks.

JUNIOR MATH, SCIENCE





1/Working problems on the overhead projector enabled Mrs. Cleaves to teach her first year algebra students more effectively.
2/Mrs. Searcy prepared for one of the various experiments in which her classes participated.
3/Showing films, Mr. Belew found, was a great aid in teaching his junior high science students.

Performing Experiments Make Science More Interesting

Mrs. Tomlinson varied the usual class routine by performing experiments for her junior high science students. In these she demonstrated the principles on which ordinary gadgets operate. For example, in one of these experiments she demonstrated the principle of air pressure which operates vacuum cleaners and syringes with a little assistance from Bernie Moore, one of the students. The purpose of these experiments was to provide the students with a better understanding of scientific principles.

We are born for a higher destiny than that of earth; there is a realm where the rainbow never fades, where the stars will be spread before us like islands that slumber on the ocean, and where the beings that pass before us like shadows will stay in our presence forever.

Objectives

To promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church, and community.

To raise the standards of home life.

To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth.

To bring into closer relation the home and school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child.

To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social, and spiritual education.
